

Kimberly Gets Second Term As APPA Head

Roy J. Sund New Vice President of National Paper Unit

New York —P— The American Paper & Pulp Association (APPA), today elected J. R. Kimberly to his second term as president. Kimberly, 55, is president and board chairman

Kimberly Sund of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Neenah, Wis.

H. E. Whitaker, board chairman of Mead Corp., Dayton, Ohio, was again chosen as the APPA's first vice president. The APPA chose as new vice presidents Roy J. Sund, vice president and general manager, American Can Co.'s Marathon division, Menasha, Wis., and R. F. Erickson, president Rayonier, Inc., New York.

The Printing Paper Manufacturers association selected as chairman, W. H. Wilcox of S. D. Warren Co., Cumberland Mills, Maine.

The Tissue association's industrial sanitary products division elected as chairman Gordon Ware of Straubel Paper Co., Green Bay, Wis.

The elections were announced as the association wound up its 83rd annual convention. For five days, some 5,000 paper men have been discussing the industry's prospects and problems, mostly in meetings of the APPA's 13 divisional associations.

Chemist Speaks
At a session of the American Pulpwood association, a paper chemistry engineer asserted U.S. paper producers, who now lean largely on coniferous — or cone-bearing — trees, must switch to hardwood trees for more of their supplies.

D. J. MacLaurin, chief of the Institute of Paper Chemistry's pulp and papermaking section in Appleton, Wis., declared "the changing national forest inventory balance strongly indicates that the rapidly expanding pulp and paper production must inevitably come increasingly from hardwood trees."

The paper industry consumes about one-fifth of the wood cut in the U.S. each year, MacLaurin said. Eighty per cent of this is coniferous.

While the nation's "inventory of hardwoods is increasing quite rapidly," MacLaurin reported, "the inventory of coniferous trees is barely holding its own." To spur greater reliance on hardwood, he called for new research on forest care and development together with closer ties between foresters and paper makers.

Hope Swiss Hamlet Will Be Saved From Rock Avalanche

Herbrigen, Switzerland —P—Hopes rose today that this mountain village may be saved from being crushed to death.

The rock slide casting an ominous shadow over the village for two weeks appeared settling down only 200 yards from the edge of the precipice overlooking it.

Herbrigen is now a ghost town. All but a handful of the 250 inhabitants fled in face of the slow-moving avalanche which came to a halt perilously close after threatening to bury them under a million tons of rock, earth and ice.

Today the government advised evacuees that they may be able to return home if the slide stays still during the next 10 days.

Blast Rocks H-Bomb Base In England

Aldermaston, England

A violent explosion rocked Britain's big H-bomb research base here today after somebody dropped an explosive charge. Two men were killed and one injured.

Officials announced there was no radioactivity hazard to the staff or the general public.

The explosion set doors and windows rattling in the village of Aldermaston, two miles away, where 300 people live. Fire engines screamed through the village streets, but there was no panic.

"We got used to living close to this thing," said 19-year-old Woodley Thomas, a clerk at the ivy-covered post office.

Fire Put Out
The British Atomic Energy commission said the accident occurred as the explosive was being unloaded from a vehicle. The vehicle was destroyed and a fire broke out, damaging a nearby building extensively. The fire was soon put out.

"The explosive was of a conventional type and no radioactive materials were involved," the commission said. "There is no radioactivity hazard to staff or to the general public."

(Two employees of the Los Alamos, N.M., atomic laboratory were killed Tuesday in an explosion of non-radioactive material.)

The Aldermaston base lies up a leafy lane near the village and is screened by trees. Residents of this town 45 miles west of London ran out of their homes when the blast came and peered fearfully toward the sprawling base.

Thomas said he was at work in the post office at 9:30 a.m. when "the whole place was shaken by one huge bang."

North Western Strike Postponed For Mediation

Chicago —P— Quick intervention by the national mediation board has resulted in the postponement of a strike against the Chicago and North Western railway.

The walkout by about 2,850 members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen employed by North Western had been set for 6:30 a.m. Saturday.

Just four hours after strike a announcement Wednesday the national mediation board said in Washington the strike had been postponed indefinitely pending an effort to adjust differences between the union and the railroad.

The board said it plans to send a field representative to Chicago in an attempt to settle a dispute over work rules. Details of the dispute were not disclosed.

Ike Nominates Federal Judge

Washington —P— President Eisenhower today nominated Atty. Gen. Latham Castle of Illinois to be a judge of the Seventh U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. That area includes Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin.

Castle, who will be 59 Friday, was named to succeed Judge Philip J. Finnegan, deceased.

A Republican, Castle has been attorney general of Illinois since 1952.

Taxpayers' Revolt Spreading Through State of Washington

Ritzville, Wash. —P— A "nonpartisan taxpayers' revolt" that started here over a cup of coffee went into its third week today with the letter-writing campaign spreading to the far corners of the state.

An estimated 10,000 or more revolt-inspired form letters have poured in on state legislators in Olympia, and Gov. Albert D. Rosellini's office said he has received 1,338 of them.

Oppose New Taxes

In addition, thousands of companion petitions were being circulated, the signers pledging not to ask for additional services from state government and demanding in return that no new tax laws be passed.

Macmillan Stresses Danger In Curbing Western Rights

Democrats Push Housing Bill With Veto in Prospect

Measure Goes Far Beyond President's Budget Proposal

Washington —P— House Democrats shrugged off veto warnings today to push toward action a $2,075,000,000 federal housing bill going far beyond President Eisenhower's proposals.

The wide ranging house measure was approved by the banking committee late yesterday over futile Republican efforts to cut it back in line with the administration's more modest $1,660,000,000 program.

No immediate house vote was in prospect. The measure still must be considered by the house rules committee, which has delayed such action in past years.

The bill's impact on the president's budget immediately raised the prospect of a veto. House Democratic leaders professed to have no concern on that point. They announced they would press for enactment of their bill as a mandate from the voters based on last November's Democratic election gains.

Banking committee Republicans, outnumbered in unsuccessful attempts to substitute Eisenhower's program, blasted the Democratic-backed housing measure as a "budget busting bill."

They contended its cost was nearer $6 billion than the $2,075,000,000 figure put on it by the Democrats.

Blow to Budget
GOP members contended it would have a "devastating adverse impact on the federal budget," which the administration estimates can be balanced at $77 billion next year with a surplus of $70 million if Eisenhower's recommendations for higher postal rates and gasoline taxes are enacted.

Both house and senate have now taken steps toward passage of new housing legislation which could throw the administration's budget plans out of gear and turn the small prospective surplus into a whopping deficit.

The senate, in an opening-session rush, already has passed a bill calling for around $2,660,000,000 in federal housing grants and loans.

Unclaimed Refunds May be Used to Buy Access to Lakes

Madison —P— About $165,000 in unclaimed motor fuel tax refunds would be used to acquire public access points on lakes now entirely surrounded by private property under a bill introduced in the assembly today.

The measure was offered by the assembly conservation committee at the request of the Wisconsin Conservation commission. The unclaimed refunds now used for highway purposes, would be available to towns and counties on a 50-50 matching basis.

Other bills introduced by the committee at the commission's request dealt with motorboat registration, fire arms and development of a new state park. The assembly adjourned for an informal session Friday and agreed to return to work at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

Funds Not Audited
The UAW and many other labor unions traditionally support Democrats against Republican candidates.

Republican members raised some critical questions about UAW flower funds during last year's inquiry, but the committee refrained from ordering an audit of those funds at the time. These were described in testimony as funds used for many purposes other than the purchase of flowers for the sick or dead.

One committee member, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.), was described as pro-rackets committee plans posing that the new inquiry embrace the explosive subject of unions' tactics in last November's election campaign against "right to work" laws.

Such measures were defeated in five of the six states in which they were voted on last year.

Right to work is a term coined for statutes outlawing collective bargaining agreements which make membership in a union a requirement to hold a job.

Racketeer Hangs Self in Home

His wife, Mary, whose finishing school background contrasted with Zwillman's early life in Newark's slums, found him in a basement storage room at their fashionable home.

Zwillman's stepson, John Stenbach, told newsmen the 54-year-old prohibition era figure had been depressed since a senate rackets committee began delving into the coin machine industry.

Zwillman owned the Public Service Tobacco company, which handled cigaret machines.

British Prime Minister Flies to Kiev Without Company of Khrushchev

Kiev, Soviet Union —P— Prime Minister Macmillan flew into this capital of the Ukraine today without the promised company of Nikita Khrushchev.

The absence of the Soviet premier indicated a further cooling off in relations between the visiting British leader and his Soviet host.

British sources said that prior to his departure for Kiev, Macmillan sternly warned Khrushchev that any attempt to interfere with western rights in Berlin would be fraught with danger.

A British spokesman said Khrushchev told Macmillan at a meeting in the Kremlin this morning he had a bad tooth and must have it fixed.

Diplomats wondered whether this was a diplomatic illness. The British have made no secret that relations between the two delegations have worsened since Khrushchev's speech on Tuesday in which the Soviet premier virtually rejected western proposals for a Big Four foreign ministers' meeting on Germany.

It became known that Macmillan and Khrushchev have virtually ended their formal and informal talks on world problems.

One More Meeting
The expectation was they would meet formally once more next Monday to draw up a communique.

Diplomatic sources said the communique probably would touch only slightly on international affairs, and would express agreement in principle to have more trade and more cultural exchanges between the two countries.

The talks thus appeared to have made little headway in reconciling British and western policies with those of the Soviet Union.

British sources made it plain that Khrushchev's speech had soured the meetings between the government leaders which had started harmoniously.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd arrived at Kiev, 500 miles southwest of Moscow, in a two-engine IL14 airliner, a more or less obsolete plane operated by the Soviet Airlines.

Call Emergency in Southern Rhodesia

Prime Minister Acts to Prevent Spread of Nationalist Unrest Generated in Nearby Nyasaland

Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia — Prime Minister Sir Edgar Whitehead declared a state of emergency throughout Southern Rhodesia today and banned the African national congress as an illegal organization.

Whitehead acted to prevent the spread of Southern Rhodesian nationalist unrest generated by the congress in neighboring Nyasaland, which is united with Southern and Northern Rhodesia in the central African federation of the British commonwealth.

Most leading officers of the congress in Southern Rhodesia were arrested in predawn raids.

There was no indication, however, that arrest had been ordered for the firebrand head of the congress, Dr. Hastings Banda, a 54-year-old London-educated physician who returned to his native Nyasaland a year ago after 40 years of self-imposed exile.

Banda makes his headquarters in Blantyre, the Nyasaland capital, and officials in Salisbury said neither the state of emergency nor the ban on the African congress had been extended to Nyasaland or Northern Rhodesia.

Regulations published in the Southern Rhodesian government Gazette empowered the government to arrest and hold any person without charges in the public interest, prohibit gatherings of more than three people, control movement of people and weapons, impose curfews and control publication of information about activities of security forces.

Whitehead said a grave situation similar to that in Nyasaland might be created in Southern Rhodesia unless immediate steps were taken.

So far, the only threatening unrest was reported at Kariba, where 4,000 striking Africans have brought work to a halt on the huge Zambesi river hydroelectric project. The row apparently started over wages, but British officials say "there is something definitely political about it now."

There were reports that members of Banda's organization had slipped into the area to direct the strikers from a secret hideout in the bush.

Solons Hear Objections to Hobby Courses

Taxpayer Official Doesn't Want Classes Subsidized by State

Madison — Objections to so-called vocational school hobby courses were voiced Wednesday at a hearing of the legislative joint finance committee.

Arguments were heard on Gov. Gaylord Nelson's recommendations to appropriate $1,097,000 to the board of vocational and adult education for the year beginning July 1. A request for restoration of $136,000 cut from the state Department of Nursing's budget was also asked.

Pay-As-You-Go

Herbert H. Clark, president of the Racine County Taxpayers association, urged the committee to put such courses as cake decorating and outdoor cooking on a pay-as-you-go basis. He said he was not opposed to hobby courses, but is opposed to having the state subsidize them.

Clarence Greiber, director of the board of vocational and adult education, denied that craft and athletic courses in local vocational schools were subsidized by the state. Only courses connected with commercial or shop training receive state aid, he said.

Restore Cut

Greiber asked the committee to restore $130,000 for vocational rehabilitation cut from his budget by the governor. Nelson recommended that $425,000 be given for rehabilitation.

Adele Stahl, director of the Department of Nursing, urged the committee to restore $136,000 cut from her budget.

Policeman Charged in Rape-Murder

New York — A policeman and his companion were charged today in the rape-

Rogers Murtha slaying of a 60-year-old widow.

Police said Mrs. Viola Mirman of Brooklyn was dragged into a car Monday, beaten with fists and a blackjack, raped and abandoned in a parking lot.

A tip to authorities led to seizure last night of Patrolman Francis J. Rogers, 26, and Thomas Murtha, 22, a truck driver.

Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm said Rogers, who was off duty, admitted beating the woman, but denied raping her. Rogers accused Murtha of the rape. Murtha also denied raping Mrs. Mirman, but told of beating her.

Found at the scene of the attack, police said, were a wrist watch owned by Rogers and a pair of eyeglasses belonging to Murtha.

Rogers' father is veteran Patrolman Charles J. Rogers. Arm quoted the men as saying they had been drinking and that they tried to "pick up" Mrs. Mirman. When she ignored them, she was dragged into the car.

Series of Arrests Rogers' arrest was the latest in a series of arrests involving New York City policemen during the last two weeks. Most were accused of irregularities linked to gamblers. Onen was arrested on a morals charge, while three others are under investigation in the alleged tampering of a mid-Manhattan store door lock.

In the past fortnight, a deputy chief inspector, two inspectors and a deputy inspector have been broken to captains; a captain was transferred; a patrolman was fired; and three other policemen were suspended.

Rogers and Murtha each were charged with homicide, rape and kidnapping. Rogers was immediately suspended from the force.

Priest Brings Aid to Hungry Farm Workers

Future Brighter for Crop Followers In Moapa Valley North of Las Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev. — Hungry farm workers who flocked hundreds of miles desperate for $6 a day jobs, only to find neither work nor shelter, had brighter prospects today.

The could thank a slight, compassionate man in black clothing—the Rev. Richard A. Crowley.

For days they had barely enough food to keep alive. They camped—men, women and children—in the open, along ditch banks, without protection from winter rains and freezing night temperatures.

They took their drinking water from irrigation ditches used by cattle. Many of their children were sick.

And—they had no work. Crop failures Cotton crop failures in Arizona threw the people out of work. They heard rumors that the crops were ready to be picked in Nevada's Moapa valley near Overton, 65 miles northeast of Las Vegas. Hopefully they headed north, 300 strong, a few days ago.

They found the harvest late and farmers' housing already full, bulging with hundreds of other workers who follow the crops. Until the onion, radish and tomato crops ripened, there would be far more workers than jobs.

"The only thing these people have to bargain with is their hunger," says Father Crowley, a Roman Catholic priest.

He has visited the workers' camps daily, in a borrowed truck, with meager offerings of food and clothing he has collected from donors.

Bad Deal For a week state Labor Commissioner George Jolly was on the scene, sent by Gov. Grant Sawyer largely at the urging of Father Crowley.

"It was a bad deal, but I think things are in pretty good shape now," Jolly said today.

Support Bill Asking Aid for Health Clinics

Proposal Would Give State Funds For Projects

Waukesha — The Wisconsin board of public welfare went on record Wednesday in favor of legislation that would provide state aid to help communities establish mental health clinics.

The board, meeting at the state boys' school here, voted to support a bill introduced by the legislative council which would have the state provide 40 per cent of the funds for establishment of such clinics in any county, city, town or village that had a population of 50,000 or more. In addition services of welfare department consultants would be provided.

Treatment Center

Also approved was a bill that would allocate up to $500,000 in state money for a center for emotionally disturbed children, proposed for construction in the Madison area.

The board referred to a committee for study a bill that has been introduced in the legislature that would have the governor appoint the welfare department director. The board has this power now. Opposition to the bill was expressed at the meeting.

It voted to oppose any bills aimed at giving courts greater leeway in deciding adoptions in which guardians refused consent. Board members said that the state's adoption policies are among the best and need no change.

The board was told that boys who should be kept longer are being paroled from the school here because the institution is overcrowded.

Marvin McMahon, superintendent of the Waukesha unit and Sanger Powers, director of the correction division, said they were "taking chances" on boys who are being paroled to take the pressure off the school.

Debt Proposal Gets Support From Sponsors

Madison — A resolution that would provide for a constitutional amendment to permit Wisconsin to go into debt to promote industrial development drew support from one of its sponsors Wednesday.

Opponents of the resolution, providing a plan to offer attractive financing to industry, contended, however, that industrial expansion would be better served by lower taxes.

The views were expressed at a legislative hearing on the resolution offered by Sen. Henry Maier (D-Milwaukee) and other Democrats. He advocated its passage.

J. C. Batzner, Oshkosh, of the Winnebago County Taxpayers association, summed up views of the opposition. He said high taxes cut expansion and prevent new industries from coming into the state. The Milwaukee association of Commerce also opposed the resolution.

Composer Calls Today's Music Cheap, Tawdry Kansas City — American composer William Schuman yesterday criticized "this poison, the cheap and tawdry music with which we are being inundated daily."

GOP Congressmen Like Move to Draft List of Republican Objectives

Committee Will Draw Up Statement of Party Policy

BY JACK BELL

Washington — A move by National Chairman Meade Alcorn to draft a statement of party policy, to join the next eight or 10 years," he said.

Only One Governor Saying that the committee represents "all segments of Republican party thinking," Alcorn said he invited only one Republican governor, Cecil Underwood of West Virginia, to join the group. He said he had not invited Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who is regarded as a potential rival of Vice President Nixon for the party's 1960 nomination. Nixon also is not a member.

Alcorn named Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, party leaders in the two houses, as the only congressional members of the group.

Other Members Other members include several from the GOP national committee, several professors, a number of women, and leaders in the fields of labor, agriculture, business and law.

Among them is Walter F. Renk, Sun Prairie, Wis.

Along the same line, Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, former house Republican leader, commented "It can't do any harm to have a new statement of principles before the 1960 campaign."

"Only time will tell, of course, whether they will have any influence on the campaign," he added.

Alcorn said he expects the 44-member committee, which meets here March 13-14, to have ready by Sept. 1 a statement covering such topics as civil rights, agriculture, labor and monetary policy.

"This is an attempt to state what the party ought to be trying to do in the next eight or 10 years," he said.

Alcorn announced after a conference with President Eisenhower yesterday the appointment of a 44-member committee to draft a statement of party principles. The group will be headed by Charles H. Percy, president of the Bell & Howell Co., Chicago.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said that in his estimation "it certainly is worth a try" for party members to attempt to define where they are going.

"This is an attempt to state what the party ought to be trying to do in the next eight or 10 years," he said.

Alcorn announced after a conference with President Eisenhower yesterday the appointment of a 44-member committee to draft a statement of party principles. The group will be headed by Charles H. Percy, president of the Bell & Howell Co., Chicago.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said that in his estimation "it certainly is worth a try" for party members to attempt to define where they are going.

Alcorn named Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, party leaders in the two houses, as the only congressional members of the group.

Other Members Other members include several from the GOP national committee, several professors, a number of women, and leaders in the fields of labor, agriculture, business and law.

Among them is Walter F. Renk, Sun Prairie, Wis.

Worth Trying "We can't get hurt trying this approach and if the members of the committee can come to an agreement on Republican principles it will indicate that the party can do the same," Goldwater said.

Along the same line, Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, former house Republican leader, commented "It can't do any harm to have a new statement of principles before the 1960 campaign."

"Only time will tell, of course, whether they will have any influence on the campaign," he added.

Alcorn said he expects the 44-member committee, which meets here March 13-14, to

Bill Aims to Extend Term Of Governor

Would Increase Chief Executive's Tenure Two More Years

Madison — The terms of the Wisconsin governor and lieutenant governor would be extended from two to four years under a measure introduced in the state senate today.

The bill, introduced by Sen. William A. Drahem (R-Neenah), would take effect in 1962. The measure would also extend the terms of the state supreme court justices from six to eight years.

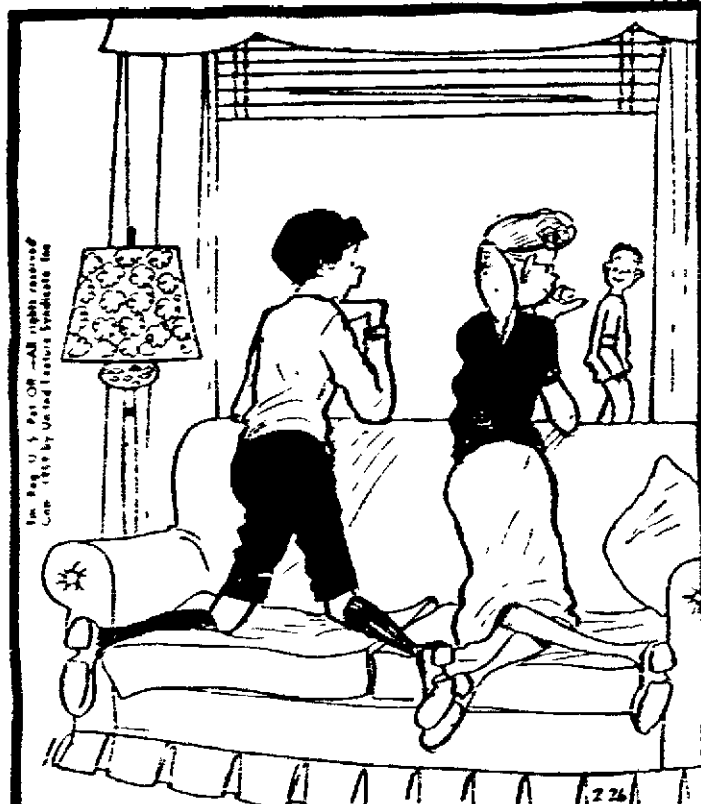

Speed Boat Bill
Legislation that would prohibit children under 12 from operating a boat with more than a 10-horsepower motor was introduced by an amendment to a bill introduced by Sen. William A. Drahem (R-Neenah) and Clifford W. Kuebler (R-Merrill). Attending adults also would be made liable for damages.

Under another bill offered by Sen. Knowles, minor children in the family of a tavern or restaurant operator would be prohibited from serving intoxicants unless the operator or a licensed employee also is on duty.

Temporary License
Sen. William A. Drahem (R-Neenah) introduced a bill at the request of the Wisconsin State Medical Society that would give temporary licenses to foreign physicians and surgeons who have proof of at least a year's internship in a recognized medical institution.

Other medical society requested bills would require chiropractors to record their licenses with the county and make annual renewals subject to a three dollar fee.

Two Get Patent for Non-Woven Bandages

Charles L. Henderson, Appleton, and Harry G. Fitzgerald, Green Bay, have received a patent for a non-woven web product and its manufacture. Substitution of a non woven product for cotton gauze in the field of surgical and dental bandages and dressings has been sought from the standpoint of reduced cost and improved softness of the article. Henderson and Fitzgerald have invented a method of making a non-woven fibrous web product suitable for use in the manufacture of bandages, dressings and other products usually made with cotton gauze. Their product is light in weight, soft, has adequate strength and the desired degree of porosity.

The fibers are formed into a non-woven web which is treated with a water soluble sizing material to produce a product having sufficient strength to hold together without distortion during subsequent processing steps. The patent has been assigned to Kimberly Clark corporation.

Ghosts Can Hit .500
Mark for First Time
In 10 Years of Action

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school cagers will close out the 1958-59 Mid-East conference season and be attempting to reach the .500 mark for the first time in 10 years when they travel to New London Friday to battle the winless Bulldogs.

The host team has several freshmen and sophomores on its starting squad after disciplinary action cut into its regular ranks at mid season. New London has yet to win a conference game this year but in previous years, in similar situations, have come up with an all out effort at the end of the season to defeat heavily favored teams.

Three Kaukauna seniors, only one a starter, will be ending conference action although they are likely to remain with the team for tournament competition. The Galloping Ghosts took a 53-35 decision in the first meeting, losing all the way, although the Bulldogs managed to stay fairly close until late in the final frame when the winners tallied 13 points to only one for the losers.

Probable Line-up
Coach Gerry Hopfensperger used his full squad in the first meeting and is expected to do the same Friday but starting will be Gary Vanevenhoven, Lee Weyenberg, Jim Steger, Myron Zachowski and Ken Kavanaugh. Others to see action will be Cy Vander Horst, Dan Larvers, Bill Berchardt, Ron Busse, Harry Gast, Tom Frank and Mike Landreman.

New London used only six players in the first meeting with Tom Laux, Gary Herres, Mike Herres, Don Hanold and Paul Werner as starters. Frank Hanold also saw action and he along with Jack Ruckdashel, Dick Surprise, Dan Laux, Dave Siefeldt, Bill Barrington and Dave Poehlman may play in the season's final.

The B squads of the two schools will clash in a 6:45 p.m. preliminary with the Junior Ghosts seeking to duplicate the first win.

what do you really know about Red Cross...

1400 trained in First Aid, locally

Practically everyone needs some first aid knowledge these days. Through Red Cross First Aid Services 1400 people have had such approved training in Outagamie county. In addition, more than 600 school children have had Junior First Aid Training.

What does this mean in our community? It promises that, in case of emergency, fire, swimming or other accident victims have some hope of help — until the doctor comes.

An important new piece of training is the Red Cross mouth-to-mouth methods of artificial respiration for use with very small children or seriously injured adults.

Another surprising fact not commonly known is the presence in our community of 24 Mobile First Aid Units available on call, for wide scattered emergencies. It's good to know that some of our neighbors are better equipped than we to bring us useful help when it may be needed.

By remembering the Red Cross emergency number — 3-4431 — we can all be assured of the help of this volunteer group.

First Aid is but another way to demonstrate that Red Cross is simply people helping people. It is a group of trained volunteers, ready for life-saving emergency. Your Red Cross membership fee helps make this work possible. This year, enroll your entire family in a Joint Family Membership.

Governing the City of Washington

When Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D., Pa.) asked to be relieved of his duties on the senate committee of the District of Columbia he gave reasons which could be of interest to a great many people in the nation.

Sen. Clark served as mayor of Philadelphia before his election to the senate and had served two years on the District of Columbia committee before he resigned.

Sen. Clark's experience in Philadelphia was of little use to him in Washington for the capital of the nation is not self-governed. Since 1878 the city has been ruled by a 3-member commission and the District of Columbia committees of the senate and the house. The commission consists of two residents of the district appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate and an officer of the Corps of Army Engineers. The commission members are the chief executive officers of the district but all the legislation for the city is handled by congress.

The president, the commissioners and the supreme court of the district appoint the administrative officers and the president appoints the judges of the courts which include a court of appeals, a supreme court, municipal court, police, probate and juvenile courts. With all of the governing officers supplied to them, the people have no occasion to vote. They are, however, privileged to pay real estate, personal property, income and sales taxes.

While the people of Washington have little to say about their government, Sen.

Clark found that even as a member of the separate committee he had limited influence. He found that to get legislation through congress there must be agreement between the house and the senate committees. He complained that the house committee always was dominated by congressmen from the deep south who don't want Washington to become a show city because they fear this would bring pressure upon them from the south. They fear home rule, Clark charged, because that might result in the election of a Negro mayor.

The house members, he said, wouldn't agree to the establishment of an additional juvenile court unless the president would agree not to appoint a Negro to the bench.

Because of the many federal buildings in Washington the real estate tax is less than might be expected. The commission governing the city had great difficulty getting congress to appropriate sufficient money to operate the city. The house has control of the national purse and thus the people who have an interest in governing the capital in a certain way use the power of the purse to accomplish their purposes. Sen. Clark says he spent a lot of time sponsoring home rule legislation for the district but got nowhere. All in all it was a frustrating experience and he resigned in disgust.

Others, well aware of the impossible situation, have shown similar distaste for service on the committee. Thus the government of the nation's capital is left in the hands of those with an interest in directing it to serve a private purpose.

'This Is the Way the World Ends—'

In Moscow, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain told Marshal Khrushchev that he did not fear calculated aggression because "such aggression, between the great powers, at least, would be suicidal today. At the same time it is impossible to hide from ourselves the danger of a war by miscalculation or muddle."

And this is precisely the reason why we must continue to have disarmament conferences with communist countries, why we must urge more crossing of borders and more seeking of some way to agree on control of nuclear weapons and detection of nuclear explosions.

British author Nevil Shute wrote On The Beach, a novel about the population of the world gradually dying from the effects of radiation. His war starts about 1961 and disintegrates as orders and suspicions get out of hand. Albania drops an atomic bomb on Naples. Then a plane drops one on Tel Aviv. American and British planes make a show of strength over Cairo and the next day Egyptians, in Russian planes, make a shambles of London and Washington. The Americans and British then bomb Russia, and China moves in to make herself undisputed world leader.

REA Has Grown Up; Should Pay Own Way

President Eisenhower wants the Rural Electrification administration to get off the gravy train and stand on its own two feet.

He proposes that the REA start getting its credit from private sources rather than the federal government where it has been borrowing at a thrifty 2 per cent interest rate for over 20 years. (The government itself has to borrow at 4 per cent).

As might be expected, backers of the federal rural power system are mobilizing for an all-out fight to defeat the president's proposal.

General Manager Clyde T. Ellis told the national REA convention that the Eisenhower administration is trying to wreck rural electrification because borrowers would be at the mercy of what he called Wall Street lenders in sympathy with competing private power companies.

The apparent reasoning behind the REA's hue and cry is interesting because the interest rate issue exposes the essential conflict between government subsidized organizations competing with private industry. Federal power advocates always have justified their existence by saying that their organizations serve as a "yardstick" by which to measure the performance of private utilities. Without federal aid they would have to compete with private industry on an equal basis. Their arguments would be knocked into a cocked hat without the special advantages they have.

Back in 1935 federal power backers argued that REA was to spread electricity in rural areas where farmers didn't have any. The argument may have been true, but today the situation has changed. The U. S. budget bureau reports that three out of four new users being added are non-farmer customers. One half of REA power goes to industries, communities or non-farm families.

It's obvious that REA has grown up. It's high time REA competed on an equal basis with its capitalistic brethren — minus subsidies, tax exemptions and interest rate advantages.

Charges Headline on Farm Story Gives Erroneous Impression

Editor, Post-Crescent:

There is a gross misunderstanding by city people of the true facts concerning the price farmers receive for their products.

This misunderstanding has "created a situation where the consumer is led to believe that the farmer is receiving more for his products than is actually so."

The headlines to Richard P. Powers' article in the Wednesday, Feb. 18th issue of Appleton Post-Crescent: "Wisconsin Farm Income Shows $27,687,000 Hike From Last Year. Figures seem to Help Benson's Stand Against Higher Supports."

This article and headlines surely does not help matters. Time and space will not permit me to go at length to comment upon this article.

To be brief, let me say, if facts are considered, these headlines and article, instead of helping Benson's stand, are reasons for being against his stand. I have talked to a number of business men including one banker and this article led them to believe this mentioned hike over last year was a net increase. Which I assume was the intention.

Your figures may be correct as a gross income, they do not represent a net income and the net income to the dairyman is less than ever. If you use big headlines and play up the net income of the dairyman or agriculture and other segments of our national economy, including our banks, I am sure you would paint a different picture.

We sometimes overlook that Benson has been in complete control of the United States Department of Agriculture for the past six years, — plenty long enough for a adequate test of his theories. Benson is not consistent and does not practice what he preaches. He talks efficiency for agriculture, yet during the time Benson has been in command, "the cost of the farm program has increased from $30.6 million to well over $3 billion a year, while net farm income has fallen from $15.3 billion in 1952 to $13.2 billion in 1958. Government surplus has increased and while accomplishing this Benson also has added 17,000 employees to the United State Department of Agriculture since he took office in 1953.

The Benson policies and proposals reflect the philosophy which holds that — "no matter what government privileges other groups enjoy — agriculture should be stripped of, or reduced in, its basic protection of prices, low interest rates, and co-operation privileges.

Disgusted With Critics Of Farmers

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I would like to find out where the person who is living in a farming area got its information. Probably from the Post-Crescent. As anyone knows that reads the editorials that they have been busy condemning the farmers almost twice a week. You read about the soil bank and that it doesn't work but not why. I never saw one word in your paper about Eisenhower's farm receiving over $6,000 from the soil bank since he took office.

Or also the farmers should be self help but not one word about a farmer cannot organize and strike cause your government would call it monopoly. Apple growers agreed last year to leave 10 per cent of their poorest crop on their trees in order to get a better price and your government called it monopoly.

You make me sick always with your complaining about surpluses. What about your labor surplus. We still have a minimum wage scale at $1 an hour. Why not remove all wage scales and let labor price itself. What would be the difference. And talk about economizing why does your paper raise its price. After all why don't you economize. We're getting 15 per cent less for our milk than in 1952 in spite of having to spend money for things like a bulk tank and everything else that went up. How does this compare with your prices. Oh yes April 1 we should take another cut.

Also I would like to find out where that person got the idea that farming was just a push button affair.

Bermuda Shorts Out of Place at Public Library

Editor, Post-Crescent:

While undertaking the scholarly aspects of a liberal education in our Appleton Public Library, we have noticed that unbecoming dress, namely Bermuda shorts, is becoming acceptable attire in the views of our city fathers. We feel that the presence of this disgrace constitutes a serious threat to the high moral standards of the educated adult citizen.

To the normal male in his quest for knowledge, this immature attire is a definite distraction, no matter how engrossed he is in study. Despite the shapely leg, and curvaceous figure, the true student would wish himself kept in a state of deep concentration, instead of being subjected to the flirtatious activity of our high school females.

We realize that the parents should try to influence proper dress, but evidently the parental authority has lost the dominant position in the adolescent mind. However, we feel that half the blame lies with either the library staff or the board which regulates their rules. While the situation is not alarming at the moment, it will eventually lead to certain demoralization, while the original purpose of the library will be found wanting.

whether it existed then, or what her budget was. I don't remember whether she was paid and incline to believe that she volunteered her services. But I do remember that she was a lovely woman, an inspired woman, whose help and interest were milestones in the lives of young men and women in her town so long ago. No doubt she was typical of the hundreds of other country librarians who toiled without reward and recognition, during the more primitive days of the state's history.

THE APPEAL

These reflections were occasioned by the testimony before the legislative finance committee — typical of the proceedings for many past sessions — on the worth of the state department which provides books for loan to individuals who are without local public library service and the small town and rural libraries which have small stores of reading materials.

The ladies spoke eloquently of their libraries, and they frowned prettily when a couple of taxpayer club spokesmen asserted their doubt that the state library's budget was a justified expenditure at a time of mounting state budget crisis.

The observer couldn't help feeling some sympathy for the ladies' point — and especially that observer who remembers a boyhood in an underprivileged small town.

But he couldn't avoid remarking also that this essential and defensible service and its devotees show the strange political aim of the times — the insatiable desire to expand and to nursemaid the body politic. There was talk about bookmobiles, for example, as if the eager student must be coaxed into borrowing a book — in these days of a superb transportation — by fetching it to his front door. One wonders whether Mr. Lincoln would have risen to the presidency if the boy Lincoln had had the services of a bookmobile.

CHOICE OF VALUES

The reflective listener must take note also of the fact that these eager witnesses came from southern Wisconsin towns that by no definition can be called financially distressed or under-privileged. They are well off, as tax capacity is measured. There were no witnesses from the poorer sections, and none from the farm organizations, perhaps significantly.

Some of these towns these ladies so self-consciously represented provide swimming pools and youth centers and modern sewage works and playing fields and fancy school buildings and many other public facilities, upon public demand and without evident resistance from their local taxpayers.

That they have not provided libraries, the bystander is inclined to conclude, is a matter of taste. Books and libraries are luxuries that must yield to more practical matters, and if desirable, ought to be provided by the anonymous and more distant taxpayer.

I wonder what Mrs. Jansen would have said.

Bothersome Commercials Best Support Paid TV Ever Had

From The Christian Science Monitor

Advocates of pay television could hardly find stronger support than is being unintentionally provided by some current commercials.

Many viewers would gladly switch to pay TV solely to banish from their hearing the numerous distasteful commercials which come crashing at them to extol the highly questionable "merits" of various patent medicines. Claims for these dosages are often accompanied by diagrams charting portions of the human body and what is supposed to happen to it inside.

Some of the medical profession have objected to these blurbs, and the federal trade commission is reported to be cracking down on them, but many commercials of this type still blast into millions of homes with undiminished offensiveness.

Then there's the endless repetition of sales messages which deliver an appeal and may even seem clever at first hearing but tend to wear thin after the sixth or tenth.

Since commercials cost money, these and others must be thought to be paying their way. Admittedly, repetition of a sales point is a basic precept of the art of selling. But there is such a thing as a saturation point, too — and at that point repetition for viewers may become an annoyance.

Switching to pay TV would, of course, mean giving up also some commercials that are quite delightful

— some of them, in fact, better than the programs they bracket. But unless commercial TV soon develops more sensitivity to listeners' sensibilities, no one should be surprised to see multitudes of new converts joining the campaign for pay TV.

Reynolds Starts Bitter Controversy in State

Decision on Ball Case Touches Off Far-Reaching Political, Legal Fight

BY JACK RUDDOLPH
 Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Two weeks ago Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds touched off one of the most bitter legal and political controversies to sweep the state in many years with his announcement that he would not represent the state college board of regents in its effort to obtain a supreme court rehearing of the now celebrated Ball case.

Since then the arguments have become increasingly bitter, ranging from accusations of political expediency through public seeking to unethical legal practice. "Academic Freedom" has been tossed about, and blasts and counter blasts have followed close on each other's heels, particularly during the last week, which culminated in an announcement by the president of the state bar that the ethical practices committee has been ordered to investigate Reynolds' conduct.

Legal Aspects
 What are the facts and legal aspects of the case?

A review, it is important to point out, must begin with the knowledge that academic freedom is not legally involved. When Dr. Ball began his suit he did not claim that such freedom had been violated. It was mentioned in the majority opinion of the supreme court and was picked up from there by Reynolds when he issued his refusal to serve the regents. It is not an issue at law.

The courts were only called upon to decide whether the procedure used by President Jim Dan Hill of Superior State college and the board of regents in dismissing Dr. Ball violated his legal rights of hearing and defense. Four members of the supreme court and a circuit court judge held that it did. Three justices said it did not.

Briefly, the facts are as follows:
 Dr. George G. Ball, a member of the Superior State college faculty, was fired by President Hill in 1957 on charges of "inefficiency" and "bad conduct."

A teacher by tenure under the law, Ball had a right to a hearing before the board of regents, demanded one and got it.

The regents, by 9-1 vote, upheld Hill, whereupon Ball brought suit in Dane county circuit court, charging he had not been accorded a fair hearing. Circuit Judge Richard W. Bardwell ruled in his favor, directing the board to reinstate him or give him a new hearing. In the trial the regents were represented by the attorney general's office.

The regents now had three choices of action. They could rehire Dr. Ball, hold another hearing or appeal Judge Bardwell's decision to the supreme court. They chose the latter, and the attorney general appealed. By a vote of 4-3 the supreme court upheld Bardwell.

The board, still with three choices, decided to petition for a rehearing and asked the attorney general to institute the petition. Meanwhile Republican Stewart Honeck had been replaced as attorney general by Reynolds, a Democrat.

Reynolds advised the board to abide by the decision and refused to represent it in any rehearing reaction. He said, however, that he would recommend to Gov. Gaylord Nelson that special counsel replace the attorney general in the case Nelson subsequently appointed such counsel.

The announced reason for Reynolds' refusal was that he felt "academic freedom was being violated."

Gov. Nelson backed Reynolds and the Democratic majority in the assembly voted down a resolution directing him to act.

Late last week the president of the state bar announced the impending investigation by the association's ethical practices committee to look into Reynolds' conduct and "determine promptly the application of Canon 31" and other pertinent bar rules.

Canon 31 is a rule of the American Bar association which declares that a lawyer need not represent every client who appeals to him. The rule makes the lawyer responsible for his decision.

What are the legal aspects of Reynolds' decision? Section 14.53 of the Wisconsin statutes says that "the attorney general shall (1) Represent state. Appeal for state of a trial.

The opposition is also critical of Reynolds' reasons and methods. Academic freedom, they point out, is not an issue. In fact, a committee of educators decided early in the game that whatever the issues of the Ball case might be, violate and prosecute or defend academic freedom was not one of them.

Furthermore, Reynolds made a great point of his refusal, releasing his statement to the press before he gave it to the board of regents. Even an earlier section of the if he has the right to refuse his office, in the opinion of his persists, or if the client wants critics, he has no right to say him to do something illegal, so publicly. By publicizing his immoral or unethical he may reasons, Reynolds, they say, pull out.

These canons, as written, has prejudiced the board's case in any application for a rehearing. The bar association's canons of ethics are specific on the responsibility of a counsel as a private attorney or a public official. An attorney general is, in a sense, He cannot, ethically, with- draw until every legal re- course has been exhausted. He must go all the way with his client.

Here are some of the ques- tions with which the State Bar's ethics committee are probably wrestling: Do the canons of ethics apply with stances where a lawyer may equal force to a private at- titude, however. If, in his opinion, every legal step has been taken and his client still them?

Bill Calling for Park Use Fee Wins Support

Madison—Motorists
 would be required to pay $2 annually or 50 cents a day to use state parks or forests under a bill that was recommended for passage by a 3-2 vote Wednesday by the senate conservation committee.
 Money collected from park stickers would go to the general fund and income from the tourists who visited the forests would go to the reforestation fund.
 The bill provides $650,000 annually from the general fund plus $175,000 from the conservation fund for development and maintenance of state parks.
 At present $370,000 annually goes to park development of which $220,000 comes from conservation money.
 Sen. Robert Dean, D-Rothschild, who opposed the measure, said there was no way of determining how much would be raised by the stick-

Appleton Man Taken To Hospital After He Is Found in Truck

Oshkosh — Robert A. Moes, 27, of 1203 N. Gillett street, Appleton, was taken to Mercy hospital Wednesday afternoon when sheriff's deputies were unable to arouse him as he sat in his parked truck in a restaurant parking lot at the intersection of Highways 41 and 45.

Oshkosh — The committee of citizens - for - representative government filed its petition calling for removal of the city manager - council form of government with City Clerk Roger Kliss Wednesday afternoon.

Kliss immediately began to check the names on the 191 petitions, which the group estimated contain about 2,700 signatures. A total of 2,300 signatures are required to put the question on the April 7 ballot.

"Educate Yourself" Educate yourselves on the philosophy and services of Red Cross so that, when you talk to the people for their contributions, you can answer their questions, he advised.

He cited these services as including the swimming instruction program, home service work to the families of servicemen and veterans, disaster relief, the blood program and the world-wide communication service to servicemen.

"Ask them if each of these services isn't worth the gift of $1 apiece," Aldridge suggested. "The usual $1 membership contribution is not enough to carry out the program. The national program depends on local support. Nobody ever went broke giving."

Two-thirds of the $14,000 quota will be retained for the local chapter's program and the balance goes to the national program which includes the disaster relief work. R. W. Wood, chapter chairman reported. Also speaking to the volunteer workers were Donald Hruska, fund drive chairman, and Miss Betty Bowser, Oshkosh, national Red Cross field representative.

Five Menasha Seniors Win Merit Awards

Two St. Mary's, 2 MHS Students High in Tests

Menasha — Five seniors from St. Mary's and Menasha High schools have reached the finals of the 1958-59 National Merit Scholarship program and have been awarded certificates of merit.

The students are Ann Melchior and Tim Menning of St. Mary's and Kathryn Lindquist, Kristen Berg and Gail Fitzpatrick at MHS.

The seniors distinguished themselves by their high scores on the two college aptitude tests used in the National Merit Scholarship competition. About 6 of 1 per cent of the seniors in each state received the awards. A national total of 10,000 students were honored.

The tests have pared the competitors down to the 10,000 figure from an original number of 478,000 entrants. About 700 of the finalists will be named merit scholars this spring. They, and the college they have chosen, will share in $31 million in scholarship funds offered by over 80 different organizations and individuals. Final judgment is underway at the present time and announcement of the winners is expected about May 1.

The merit scholarships are 4-year awards and carry stipends that range from $100 to $1,500 a year. Each stipend is individually determined on basis of the need of the individual recipient. The amount is based on family resources, summer earnings and college costs, all of which vary with each winner.

The National Merit Scholarship corporation was established in 1955 through grants of $205 million from the Ford foundation and the Carnegie corporation of New York. The current program is the fourth that is being conducted.

Library Displays Suggested Books for Reading by Children

Neenah — Books of interest to first through fifth graders are being featured in a display for children and their parents as well as teachers at the Neenah Public library.

The display will continue through Friday. Lists of books are available for parents who may wish to purchase some for their children.

Car Tips Over

Oshkosh — Donald T. Miller, 19 of 49 Van Street, Neenah, was arrested when his car went off Highway 47 and rolled over in the town of First Street, Menasha appearing early this morning, in municipal court on a charge of failing to register.

Miller told county police he was going southwest at about 35 to 40 miles an hour when Paycan, Feb. 14, but Judge he dozed off and struck a snow bank. Authorities said the car skidded 135 feet before overturning on its right side.

Menasha — St. Mary High school students have been puzzled this week by huge "Elsie" posters which decorate corridors and doors.

Plain white paper has the word "Elsie" printed on it.

The situation was cleared up Wednesday night when someone printed the letters "L.C." underneath "Elsie." "L.C." stands for Little Chute and the St. Mary's basketball team will meet Little Chute St. John in the first game of the regional tournament on the Dutchmen court Friday night. "Elsie" happens to be the name of the St. John High school youth center and is the long form of "L.C."

The Zephyrs are hoping the publicity will fire up their team for its clash with the rival Little Chute team.

St. Timothy Cubs Honored at Fete

Menasha — The 13th anniversary of Cub Scouting was observed at the annual Blue and Gold dinner at St. Timothy Lutheran church Tuesday night.

Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Jacobsen, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Verhoven, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gardner and Dennis Mattson.

Awards were presented to James Korth, Russell Neske, Daniel Skarveski, James Weisenberg, Steven Stevenson, Tom Herziger and Chuck Voigt.

A magician act was given by James Auer.

Amherst Man Pleads Innocent of Having Undersized Sturgeon

Eugene Vance, 32, of 5121 1st street, Menasha, appeared in municipal court on a charge of failing to register his car. Judge Luchinger dismissed him with a warning in view of his apparent attempt to register it.

Network May Be Purchased
Cosmetics Firm in Negotiations for Mutual System
New York — (U) — Negotiations are underway for a Hollywood cosmetics firm to take over the Mutual Broadcasting system radio network.
Acknowledgment that the deal is in the making came yesterday from an MBS spokesman here and Davis Factor, chairman of Max Factor and company in Hollywood.
Factor was quoted as saying his firm had reached a tentative agreement with Hal Roach, Jr., Mutual's chairman.
Roach said that "if and when" an agreement is reached, it would be announced jointly.
No Purchase Price
Neither of the parties discussed purchase price or other details. It was understood, however, that the cosmetics company would assume obligations of the network.
Mutual holds affiliation contracts with 453 radio stations throughout the nation. It owns none of them outright, but services them with news and other programs.
Roach is president of the Scranton corporation and chairman of the board of the F. O. Jacobs company, which owns a substantial portion of the Scranton company. The Mutual spokesman said the F. L. Jacobs would not be involved in the transaction.
Factor said his concern would not be taking any stock in either the Jacobs company or the Scranton corporation.
Recently the securities and exchange commission suspended trading on the New York stock exchange of Jacobs company shares. The SEC charged Charles Guterman, then Jacobs' president but since resigned, with failure to file financial statements. The case is pending.

Network Head Loses Poise
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — H. B. McCarthy, the usually-poised chief of the state radio broadcasting network, momentarily forgot the identity of his listeners as he told the legislative finance committee that the late afternoon broadcast hours are the least valuable from the standpoint of size of audience.
The State Radio council features a 5-30 p.m. program daily of speeches by members of the legislature.

Prepare Fish Dishes in Varied Ways; Serve With Sauces for Lenten Meals
Oshkosh — Approaching the mid-way mark of the lenten season, many cooks may find their files of meatless dishes almost exhausted. Although fish may be a familiar dish, give it new zest by preparing it in different ways.
Look to the frozen food section or fresh fish counter in buying for your family, suggests Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. Plan three servings per pound of fish steaks or fish fillets. If a dressed fish is purchased, plan on one-half pound per serving. Keep frozen fish frozen until shortly before the meal.
Pike, haddock, halibut, whiting and cod are considered "low fat" fish which you may wish to baste with melted butter during the baking process. "Fat" fish would include lake trout, whitefish and salmon.
The general procedure for baking fish is to place the fish salted inside and out, in a buttered baking pan. Use a moderate temperature, baking a three to four pound fish for 30 to 60 minutes. If using fillets, ocean perch, lake perch or cod fillets, cut down on the preparation time.
Spanish Fillets
The recipe for fillets baked in Spanish sauce calls for two pounds fillets, one-fourth cup chopped onion, three tablespoons butter, melted, two tablespoons flour, two cups canned tomatoes, one-fourth cup chopped green pepper, one teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon sugar, dash of pepper, one bay leaf and one whole clove.
Cook the onion in butter until tender. Blend in flour. Add remaining ingredients except fillets and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Remove bay leaf and clove.
Arrange fillets in a well-greased shallow baking dish and cover with sauce. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 25 to 30 minutes or until fish flakes when tested with a fork. Garnish and serve hot.
Fish salad is made with two cups flaked fish, one-half cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, one-half cup diced celery, one-half cup peas, two tablespoons chopped dill pickle, two tablespoons chopped onion three diced hard-cooked eggs and lettuce.
Combine all ingredients except the lettuce, being careful not to break the fish too small. Serve in lettuce cups and garnish with sliced eggs.
Sauces
Seasonings and sauces will enhance the flavor of many fish dishes. Lemon butter sauce is made by melting four tablespoons butter, adding one tablespoon lemon juice and one tablespoon minced parsley and one-half teaspoon salt. Serve with broiled fish.
Cucumber sauce is made by combining one-fourth cup mayonnaise or sour cream, one-half cup finely diced cu-

Treasurer Warns of Deadline for Taxes
Neenah — Friday is the last day for payment of taxes for those who are paying their taxes in full. City Treasurer Walter H. Loehning reminded property owners today. Those who are using the installment plan had to pay their first installment by Jan. 31.

Scout Troop Names Officers, Patrol Heads
Neenah — Officers and patrol leaders were elected recently by Girl Scout Troop 216 of St. Margaret Mary school. Cheryl Marta was named president and Virginia Schroeder secretary.
Judy Anderson is leader of the Owls patrol assisted by Carolyn Forsythe. Jean Schnetzer is leader and Barbara Larsen, assistant leader, of the Cracker Jacks patrol. Heading the Wings patrol are Joan Van Gorp, leader and Patty Francart, assistant leader.
Recent activities of the troop include making valentines for Sunset Haven Rest home, a tour of Haertl's Jewellers and a visit to the Visiting Nurse association house. Troop leaders are Mrs. James Francart and Mrs. Emil Marta.

Teach Children Wise Spending At Early Age
Oshkosh — Parents can help children learn to manage money wisely by giving them a small amount to spend at an early age. It gives the child a sense of responsibility to be able to pay for his own purchases. An allowance can be planned to include such items as school lunches and Sunday school.
Perhaps at first, children will spend the "extra money" foolishly. As he becomes more accustomed to having a set amount of money given at regular intervals, he will learn to use it for worthwhile things or to save it.

As the child grows older, increase the allowance to cover more items. The extra responsibility comes as the child demonstrates his ability to plan his spending wisely.

'Crossing of Antarctica' Available at Smith Library

Menasha — Sir Vivian Fuhs story of Henrich Schlieman and Sir Edmund Hillary's new and the buried cities of ancient Greece is vividly told. "The Crossing of Antarctica," is now available at the Archeological Society of America, which uncovered walls of Troy. King Priam's palace and hundreds of antiques of previous historical value are described.

This is the story of men who set out into the loneliness of the unknown to discover what lay on and below a hidden continent. One of the added features of the book is beautiful illustrations of the tatrations.

Archeological Finds "The Gold of Troy" by R. Martin's "The Pane of Glass" by Winston S. Churchill's, "Memoirs of the Second World War," an abridgement of six volumes with an epilogue by the author on post war years also has been put out for circulation.

Collectors and those interested in home furnishings from the past will find Bernard Hughes' "Small Antique Furniture," an excellent guide. Expectant mothers will find Dr. Edmund Jacobson's book "How to Relax and Have Your Baby," an invaluable help.

For an evening of enjoyable reading the librarian recommends these new mysteries: "Death Takes a Partner" by Cecil Street, "A Long Way with a Backward Glance and Down" by Elizabeth Fenwick, look into the future in John Martin's "The Pane of Glass" by Winston S. Churchill's, "Me-

Speaker Urges Peace Through Law Program

Milwaukee Attorney Calls for Court System to Settle International Disputes

Menasha — Promote peace smaller nations to get the through law before it is too larger countries to resolve late. Bruno V. Bitker, Milwaukee attorney and a member of the governor's commission cost in dollars for armaments, on human rights, urged the outer space and the ease in Menasha Rotary club at its world travel today.

Two ways of peace are op- if we have this arms race," en, he said. One is peace with he emphasized. "We can't af-disarmament and the other is peace with law. "Before you get rid of the shooting, you must set up a system of court and laws.

"In England it was not until the courts were set up that the manor lords gave up their armies. In the days of the early West, the courts had to be set up before the people gave up their shooting irons," the attorney commented.

He pointed out the idea of arbitration goes way back to early Greek history and also to the days of Moses who set up a complete system of judges, courts and laws. Throughout history there has been a universal law of reason and fairness in any given dispute.

International Court The speaker pointed to the Hague court, or Peace palace, which has been set up by Andrew Carnegie and which is now used by the international court of justice which was created by the United Nations charter. Each of the UN members has a justice on it but the United States and some of the other nations have put restrictions into their approval of the court which limit it considerably.

Britain last November agreed to recognize compulsory jurisdiction of court and was willing to take similar action, it would be a great step forward, Bitker declared.

The American Bar association has asked the senate to dissolve its restriction and heim, Calif., and Emert Stac-

President Eisenhower also has asked for reconsideration of these restrictions.

Twin City Foes Vie In Final M-E Clash

NHS Takes Overall 9-9 Mark Into Finale, Including Win Over Jays; Hosts Record 5-12

Menasha — Another Mid-Eastern conference season — the 32nd — closes for Neenah and Menasha quintets Friday night when they oppose each other on the Bluejay court.

The season — while not as fruitful as most of the recent league campaigns — has been interesting and at times frustrating for both the teams and their followers.

The finale will be the first of two games in seven days pitting the two local favorites against each other because they are matched in Menasha regional tournament play next Thursday night.

Going into the 14th league struggle, Neenah has a 7-6 record for fourth place. Menasha has 3-10 and is in seventh.

The Rockets could be forced to share the fourth position through the combination of a loss and a Two Rivers win over Shawano. A Menasha win coupled with a Clintonville loss to Kimberly could move the Menashans into a tie for sixth.

Neenah's overall record now reads 9-9 while Friday's hosts have 5-12 for the year.

Average 64.2 Points

Neenah, in its 18 games, has chalked up 1,148 points for an average of 64.2 per game. The opponents have made 1,097 for a 61 point average. The high point total was 88 in the first New London game and the low, 47, in the 11-point loss to Appleton.

High for an opponent was Janesville's 81 when it bested Neenah in an overtime and a foe's low mark was the 33 collected by New London last Friday.

In league play, Neenah's winning margins have varied from 51 points — over New London — to a 1-point loss to Clintonville. Its widest losing spread was Two Rivers' 28 two weeks ago and the narrowest six against Kaukauna.

Jays Garner 923 points in 17 games for an average of 54.3 per tilt. Its opponents have found the hoops for 973 points worth or a 57.2 average.

Menasha's high point effort was 76 against New London and the low 38 — in the first Kaukauna get together. The opponents low was Kaukauna's 41 in the same game and the high, 77 markers by Kimberly.

Menasha's victory margins varied from 2 against Shawano to 22 over New London and the losses — two to Kaukauna to 21 to Kimberly.

The Jays have been involved in four overtime games, including the first game which the Rockets won 71-60. Neenah has been in two extra-frame sessions. The Jays beat Appleton in two overtimes and also lost to Two Rivers and Kaukauna. The Janesville and Menasha games were Neenah's 5-period tests.

Miss Free Throw

If Friday's tangle is anything like the first one, spectators should be in for an enjoyable evening.

In that fracas, the score was tied 33-all at halftime and 58-all at the close of four periods. Neenah had a 13-2 overtime edge after the Jays missed a free throw after the horn sounded, sending the game into the extra frame.

Dick Wilson had 14 points for Neenah and Russ Wendt collected 15 for Menasha.

Try for 5th Win

Neenah will be trying for its fifth straight win over the Jays. It took two league victories and a tournament win last year. The all-time conference series now stands at 39 wins for Neenah to 24 for the Jays.

Neenah Coach Ole Jorgensen has started the same quintet in most of the recent games while Lucian Gajewski of the Jays has done a lot of shuffling in trying to come up with a workable combination.

Likely Starters

Likely Neenah starters are Bill Kuehl and Jon Halverson, seniors, and Tom Smith, Dick Wilson and Jack Andersson, juniors. Dave Ristau, Tom Stepanski and Russ Wendt, "Rocky" Jersild and Hal Jorgensen or Dave Robinson are the probable Menasha openers. Ristau is a sophomore. Wendt a junior and the rest seniors.

In addition to Kuehl and Halverson, other Neenah seniors who will be winding up their prep careers except for tourney play, are Bob Tollefson, Dave Heller, Jerry Modar, Gary Ellis and Jim and Jerry Hensen. The only Jay senior, in addition to Jersild, Stepanski, Jorgensen and Robinson, is Bob Hodkiewicz.

Neenah Dart League Ends 1958-59 Slate

Neenah — The Neenah Municipal Dartball league closes second round play with four matches at the Recreation building at 7:30 tonight.

Paired are Stecker's (13-8) versus Lakeview (8-10). Haase and Drews (16-5) versus United Pattern (10-11) and Keil and Werner (8-13) versus Tews (5-16).

Three Golf Classes Planned By Recreation Department

Neenah — The annual golf instruction clinic, sponsored by the Neenah Recreation department, will begin March 18. Recreation Director Bill Miller announced today. This is the 10th year that the program is being offered.

Miller announced that because of the interest shown in the past, an additional late afternoon starters series again will be provided.

Classes are divided into the starters section for those who have played golf less than a year or are just beginning the game and the players section for those who have played before.

Golf etiquette, club selection and basic fundamentals are covered in the starters class while the players class is for correction and improvement.

The afternoon starters group will be limited to 15 players and will be held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Mondays March 23, March 30 and April 6 and Thursdays April 2 and April 9.

The evening starters group meets at the Roosevelt gym from 7 to 8 p.m. The class will be limited to 30 and its meeting dates are Wednesdays, March 18, April 1 and April 8 and Mondays, March 23 and 30.

Below to Instruct

The players class, limited to 25, meets from 8 to 9 p.m. at the Roosevelt gym. Its dates are Wednesdays, March 18, April 1 and April 8, and Mondays, March 23 and March 30.

Reservations can be made and additional information secured by calling the Recreation building. Reservations will be accepted beginning next Monday.

Bob Below, Ridgeway Country club professional, will be the instructor for the 10th year. A charge will be made for the series.

Ask Inquiry on Bar's Criticism Of Reynolds

Joint Legislative Quiz Proposed in Prof. Ball's Ouster

Madison — A legislative investigation of the State Bar of Wisconsin for its action in connection with Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds' refusal to represent the board of state college regents was asked Wednesday.

Companion resolutions introduced in the assembly and senate called for immediate creation of a joint legislative committee, empowered to call sworn witnesses.

Seven Democrats introduced the proposal in the assembly and four in the senate. The proposal is an outgrowth of the firing of Prof. George Ball from the faculty of Superior State college.

Suspect Politics

The resolution said its purpose was to determine whether there is an effort to use the State Bar for political purposes.

Reynolds recently told the regents his office would not represent the board in its request for a rehearing in the state supreme court of a decision which favored Ball. The court was critical of the board's action and said Ball should be reinstated or given a new hearing. Gov. Gaylord Nelson appointed a special counsel to represent the board in further proceedings.

The resolution calls for an investigative body of three senators and four assemblymen and they would have to report their findings to the legislature by May 15.

The resolution declared that the action by the bar "strongly demonstrates that the paramount purpose of the complaint is to prejudice public opinion against the attorney general and the Democratic party under the banner of which he Reynolds was elected."

Senators Have Plan For Ousting Benson

Suggested Farm Program Would Help Family-Sized Operation, Not Bigger Ones

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — "Let's not be coming up with our scheme, Herman, until we've had a chance to operate on Ezra."

The maker of this cheerful blood-thirsty remark was Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, in council with his new ally, Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia.

Alsop

The Ezra destined for the operating table was of course the nation's leading Ezra. Sec. Benson have produced a request for just under $7,000,000 of agricultural appropriations next year. The $9,000,000 worth of surpluses the Utah free enterpriser has managed to accumulate will cost above $1,250,000,000 in mere storage and handling charges—a large sum than the spender, Truman, ever paid out to the farmers themselves.

And the Utah free enterpriser's bill for farm subsidies next year is in the neighborhood of $4,000,000,000 or about twice the estimate cost of the nefarious Brannan plan.

Even the farm-state senators, never before accustomed to be tender in their dealings with the public purse, have begun to be alarmed by this monstrous inflation of the expense of the farm program. So they are not merely preparing to "operate on Ezra"; they are also getting ready a substitute program of their own.

The groundwork is being done by the administrative assistants of Sens Talmadge, Humphrey, Symington of Missouri, and Proxmire of Wisconsin. Sen. Talmadge, one of the sharpest intellects in the modern senate is the main director and inspirer of the effort.

Simple Scheme

Omitting the technicalities, the 4-senator scheme is simple enough. Existing special schemes for tobacco, wool and other special crops, will be retained. But all other crop controls will be jettisoned, and all the main crops will be sold on the free market, at home and abroad. Subsidies in the form of parity payments will then be given to producers of wheat, cotton, rice, peanuts, corn and soybeans. But only on that share of their crop consumed in the country.

Mainly because the big farmers are left to sort for themselves, the whole scheme is estimated to cost only about $2,000,000,000 at present prices, or half the cost of subsidies requested by Benson.

The scheme's real interest lies in its single-mindedness. It is solely designed to preserve and assist a sorely endangered American asset, our independent farming population. Socially, biologically, historically, this is a name well worth national investment. All previous farm programs, having no limitation on the subsidy check, have instead mainly assisted the big, semi-industrial farmers. This one is shaped to aid only the family-sized farm. Whether or not the scheme's machinery is well-designed, its principle is surely correct.

Soviet Naval Chief Says Russian Fleet Ready to Strike

Moscow — Adm. Sergei Gorskoy, commander in chief of the Soviet navy, said Monday his ships are able to range over the great oceans and "deliver mighty blows to targets on other continents."

Writing in the navy organ Soviet Fleet, Gorskoy said: "Our fleet is capable to solve any strategic tasks in its field."

The article commemorating the 41st anniversary of the Soviet armed forces said that in view of the extremely swift development of naval technique "Soviet naval schools must give all cadets basic engineering training."

The admiral also urged the intensification of scientific research in the field of naval operations and tactics. He added this is necessitated by new equipment.

Say Famed Basilica Now Out of Danger

Venice — P. Venice's famed Basilica of St. Mark was pronounced out of danger to day after its cracks had kept Italian engineers nervous for months.

Workmen restoring mosaics in the eleventh century cathedral had dug big cracks in the walls, domes and supporting pillars.

The trouble was diagnosed as partly old age partly the settling of the soft ground on which the cathedral is built not far from the Grand canal.

Concrete is being injected to fill the cracks and strengthen the walls and foundations. The work is continuing, but the engineers believe the crisis is past.

which carries such a high

In 1958 the U. S. supreme court came up with some answers. In one situation, a gambler who carried on a bookmaking operation paid wages to employees and rent for the premises he used.
Both the wage and rent payments were illegal under the state law. In another case, a trucking concern overloaded its trucks in violation of a state law. It took the risk of paying a fine for overloading because it couldn't operate profitably without overloading.

Could the gambler deduct his illegal payments and could the trucking concern deduct its fine in calculating their federal income tax?
Odd as it may seem, the gambler was allowed to deduct his illegal payments — presumably on the basis that the federal government recognizes gambling as a tax-paying business and therefore a gambler can deduct the kind of expenses which a legitimate business can, even though this violates the state law.
The legitimate trucking concern didn't make out so well. Its fines were not allowed, because to give a tax deduction for the fines would frustrate a clearly defined public policy of the state.

Supreme Court Criticized for Abuse of Power

Bar Association Suggests Congress Correct 'Ill Effects'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Seldom in American history has there been such a scathing criticism of the decisions of the supreme court of the United States as has just come from the American Bar association.
This has nothing to do Lawrence with the decisions of the court on segregation or integration. Nor do the members of the bar, who by overwhelming vote approved, at the Chicago convention this week a committee report on the subject of supreme court decisions, come from any one section of the country.
The action taken is a formal disapproval of several decisions of the supreme court not only in matters of law but in the misuse of the judicial power itself. The report, comprising about 20,000 words, does not criticize the supreme court as an institution nor recommend any limitation of its powers, but does say that congress should at once, in the proper way, endeavor to correct the ill effects of the decisions. The report declares:
"Many cases have been decided in such a manner as to encourage an increase in communist activity in the United States through invalidation of state sedition statutes, and limitation of state and federal investigating powers in the field of subversion although these cases might readily have been disposed of without so broadly limiting national and state security efforts."
"The paralysis of our internal security grows largely from construction and interpretation centering a round public and technicalities raised in judicial decisions which our judicial process which the communists seek to destroy, yet, use as a refuge to masquerade their diabolical objectives.

"This trend was treated fully in the conference of state chief justices last year when they called upon the United States supreme court to exercise the power of judicial self-restraint. The dissenting opinions of certain supreme court justices have been crystal clear in charting the effect of the failure of the majority to recognize the underground forces that are at work and to appreciate how these decisions affect our internal security."
Defend Institutions
The bar association's report says it is the duty of members of the bar to defend the institutions of the judiciary from unfair and unjust attacks and that proposals to limit the court's jurisdiction should not be approved.
But at the same time the committee report, as adopted by the convention, says that, where congressional remedial legislation dealing with communists and other subversives should be given prompt attention. The report cites a long list of supreme court decisions in the internal-security field and points out exactly how they can be overcome by action of congress.
Also, a chapter is devoted to current fallacies about communism. The report says that it is just as false to measure the strength of communism in the United States by comparing the small number of party members with the large number of non-communists, as it would be to measure the seaworthiness of a ship by comparing the area of its holes with the area of its hull.
Alert Nation
Adding that the "danger and the menace of communism are worse than ever," the report calls on the members of the bar to alert the nation on the menace of international communism.
As one reads the report, there comes a feeling that its writers tried to be as tactful as possible in their references to the present membership of the supreme court but nevertheless reveal again and again their dismay at the abuse of power by the high court.
"Our internal security," says the report, "has been weakened by a lackadaisical attitude on the part of public and technicalities raised in judicial decisions which too frequently in the public

Give Us Money, We'll Acknowledge It, Legislators Told
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Officers of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters were pleading before the legislature for a boost in their state subsidy from $3,000 to $5,000, and explaining that the money is used only to finance publications.
"Do the publications report that the state is making a contribution?" asked a legislator.
"Give us $5,000 and we'll put you on the front page," returned A. W. Schorger, widely-known naturalist and officer of the academy.
mind have had the effect of putting on trial the machinery of the judicial process and free the subversive to go forth and further undermine our nation."
The indifference of the public may be due to the job performed by some of the opponents of the late Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin. Unfortunately, the period in which he struggled to direct attention to the communist menace now is brushed off as merely one of hysteria, and there is no effort nowadays to separate what was valid in the crusade from that which was due to overzealousness and emotionalism.
Since the famous battle took place in the senate in 1954, moreover, it has been an open secret in Washington that the Democratic party leaders in both houses have been under pressure from its so-called liberal elements to soft-pedal the inquiries into communism. Though two committees still do some work in this field, they are restrained by word from higher up in the party whenever they really want to expose some palpable manifestation of communism effort inside the United States.
Some prominent citizens, for example, who have been openly siding with the Soviets against their own government in certain controversies have never been called as witnesses by the committees of either the house or the senate to explain their activities or their connections with the communist propaganda machine. Maybe the American Bar association report will awaken American public opinion and help to overcome the timidity of the Democratic party leadership on these subjects.

Paris Shows Off

Beautifully Elegant Is a strapless evening dress by Maggy Rouff in embroidered white organdy with a broad belt and big bow in green taffeta at the waist. Each layer of the ankle-length skirt is trimmed with Spanish styled green fringes.

Two Gowns for After-5 Wear are shown by Guy Laroche and Yves Saint-Laurent, successor to Christian Dior. At left, Laurent uses pleating in a short evening frock of pale and darker pumpkin oranges printed on silk. In line with the emphasis on the natural silhouette, he places the waist at the waist and covers the knees with inches to spare. A skirt ending in a large knot at the floor distinguishes a floor-sweeping creation by Laroche. The purple and green brocade bodice is cut with deep V rear decolletage. Shirt is of purple shantung.

Wares for Public View

Handsome Large White and Black checks detail a coat and dress ensemble by Lanvin-Castillo. White gloves and a black hat with a net brim accent the dominant check.

Couturiers Agree on Natural Line

Paris—Paris dressmakers finally presented pictures of their new styles to the public today with a hopeful, "Here it is, and how do you like it?"

By it they mean the natural line that you read about nearly a month ago. Photographs were not permitted until now. Seldom has Paris made such a concerted attempt to please the public with a flattering, wearable silhouette. Everybody, from Dior to Cardin, Balmain and Heim, fell in line.

Cover the Knees
Hemlines are just comfortably below the knee — the couple of inches that insure kneecap coverage even when you sit down. This probably means that your skirts are just right as they are, without letting down or taking up.

Neckline decolletage is generous enough, but it's wide-open rather than low-down. This is what fashion calls the boat neckline, and to keep the nautical note there are sailor-type hats.

A trademark of the Paris 1959 spring styles is the wide bertha collar, in variations from a flat encircling band all the way to a deep flounce.

Waist in Place
The waist-in-place is the biggest news of the season, with a few designers keeping just a hint of the lifted Empire waistline of last year.

There are so many colors in the Paris collections that it's hard to pick the favorites. But greens surprised everybody by their unusual popularity and beige is probably the basic winner.

Prints are not prevailing, as they sometimes are for spring and summer wear. They run to scribbly abstracts, small checks, blurry flowers and polka dots.

Since the new line is supple, materials are, too. The favorites are the silk, shantung, chiffon, tulle or net, organdy, lace and woolsens.

Infant Welfare Circle Tells Project Dates
Dates for two major money-raising projects were announced Tuesday when Infant Welfare circle of King's Daughters met with Mrs. Jack R. Benton, 1508 Oakcrest court.

The annual spring rummage sale will be staged April 29 and 30 at Lawrence college Little Theater, under the direction of Mrs. Douglass Mann. The Charity ball, held each year before Christmas, has been set for Dec. 5 at North Shore Golf club. Mrs. William Buchanan is dance chairman.

Girl Scout Troop in Little Chute Holds Valentine Party
The Intermediate Girl Scouts of Troop 205 of Little Chute entertained Brownie Troop 32 at a Valentine party Tuesday evening at the Village hall. Mothers of the Intermediate troop were also guests.

The program opened with the flag ceremony and Girl Scout promise. A musical drama, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, was presented by the Girl Scouts. Games were played and refreshments were served by the hostess troop.

Plan Cookie Sale
New London—Plans to take part in the cookie sale will be completed by Brownie Troop 5 during a meeting Wednesday at the First Congregational church parlors.

The "Hoop" Line of Pierre Cardin is characterized by a fitted waist, broad shoulders and wide belt. Redingote dress, at left, is in black, white and beige. Large lapels dip waistward for a deep decolletage. A beige hat completes the outfit. Evening gown at right reveals an Oriental influence. Red, orange, yellow, green and white fan in a silk dress with hem ending just above the ankle.

Views of Parisian Spring fashion collections which were paraded during January have been released today to the general public. While daytime and formal styles vary according to individual couturier, there is general agreement on a natural curved silhouette which defines and lightly lifts the waistline.

Yves Saint-Laurent Comes up with a nautical influence in his sheath dress, left. Cotton topser is in sea-blue and trimmed with large pockets. Model wears a wide-brim straw hat, detailed with fruits and flowers of the season. The Parisian has used black and white tweed for a chic suit at right. Straight hip-length jacket covers a sheath dress.

Lanvin-Castillo comes up with a deep cape collar on a cream and beige wool coat. It covers an easy sheath dress which has a wide cummerbund accenting the slender midriff of the season.

The blue-eyed teen-age starlet began her career at age 10 when she took dancing lessons and had an opportunity to do some modeling. "But I don't discuss my modeling past," she says, "because I'm going to concentrate on being a great actress."

Average Person

Typical of the average student of her age, Carol who just was graduated from high school, has the usual complexion and hair problems, but neither have stood in her way to success.

That's one reason why she believes you should try the glamor world, even if you don't have the facial attributes of your favorite actress.

"If you could see her in real life without her makeup, you may be surprised that she is not really very glamorous," Carol says.

Very few actresses are discovered, she adds. "The entire road to stardom is dotted with hard work."

Dedication

If you are ambitious, don't expect to make your fortune in the theater, she says. "There is much less money in acting than in modeling, and you should be dedicated if you'd succeed."

Carol has a rigorous schedule. She has been in several Broadway shows and more than 20 TV productions, next starring with Ronald Regan in "Deed of Mercy," but maintains the vitality of her lithe, 105 pounds, 5-foot, 5 frame with "lots of sleep and vitamins."

She washes her face with soap and water, and uses a minimum of makeup. She loves to ice skate, dance, knit and crochet.

"I am fascinated with cold weather. I don't really begin to perk," says the New York City bred girl, "until the temperature drops to zero."

She is on her way to make "Holiday for Lovers." Her first role in "Light on the Forest" for Walt Disney came as a result of his spotting her picture on the cover of a national magazine.

Since South properly elected to make a bid over East's feeble shutout attempt of two hearts, it would have been better tactics for South to show his major suit. If West had passed the three-diamond call, North and East undoubtedly would have done likewise, and South would not even have had the chance to make game.

West opened the heart king. The ace won, and declarer then considered how he could best enter his own hand for a trump lead toward dummy. This would be a vital procedure, because the only way South could hope to avoid the loss of two trump tricks (along with a heart and a diamond) was to find a defender with the trump ace single guarded. Since West had done the only significant bidding for his side, he was marked with that trump ace. South decided to lead a diamond from the board, but this did not turn out well. East started an echo with the diamond eight, and West, on taking his ace of diamonds, promptly returned the suit. East completed the high-low signal, and when declarer then led a trump, West went right up with the ace and gave East a diamond ruff. The heart return defeated the contract.

There was no safe way of declarer's entering his own hand for the vital trump lead toward dummy, but his actual try in diamonds was surely not the best choice. South should have cashed dummy's top clubs and ruffed a third

Graham's Eye Infection Recurs

Meibourne — P — A recurrence of eye infection kept evangelist Billy Graham in bed today, but he will go on with his Meibourne crusade said the Rev. Grady Wilson, a member of Graham's evangelist team.

"The eye trouble has been with him ever since the Meibourne crusade began almost a fortnight ago," Mr. Wilson said.

The same infection delayed Graham's departure from the United States for Australia early this month. He spent two weeks in Hawaii recuperating from it.

The doctors have advised Graham to rest as much as possible and to limit his sermons from 60 to 75 minutes to reduce the strain.

About 200,000 persons so far have attended Graham's Meibourne meetings, which began 11 days ago.

The evangelist told a capacity crowd of 25,000 last night to pray for "Mao Tse-tung in Moscow, and Dulles and all other world leaders who are working for peace."

U. S. Investigators Criticized Sharply By Federal Judge

Houston — P — U. S. Dist. Judge Joe Ingraham sharply criticized federal investigators yesterday as he freed a mail carrier charged with taking money from a letter.

He accepted a defense motion for acquittal of Rufus E. Lindsey, 39, who was indicted Feb. 3 for taking four $1 bills from an envelope mailed to the West Texas Methodist church.

We hear a lot of public relations about the infallibility of our government bureaus—the post office department, the FBI and T-men and those run and those men the judge said.

But I find that what most of them want to do is in some way or another get a confession, and that's their case. I want to disabuse the mind of this kind of case in this court."

Judge Ingraham said he didn't think he could submit the case to a jury as long as there was only a reasonable probability the man took the money.

Lindsey testified that a post office employee hit him a couple of days before the body while trying to get a confession.

Man Irked by Bookkeeping Wife Who Postpones Family

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: My wife is 28 and I am 33. We've been married 7 years. We both have excellent positions and agreed when we married to wait before starting a family.

For the last two years I've felt we should get busy, but since there was reluctance on her part, I decided not to press the matter. Last week I thought it was time to discuss it openly. I was shocked when she told me that according to her "bookkeeping" we should be ready to start a family in "about two years."

I'm really disgusted with her. When I mentioned leaving, she said I was a brute, and if I married her only to bear children, I could go any time.

We both read your column and have respect for your advice. Will you please review this situation in print? — Fed up

Dear Fed: Tell your wife, according to your figures she is afraid of motherhood or too selfish to go through the inconvenience of having a child. A few visits with a doctor will help to allay her fears.

If it's pure selfishness,

Bring In Your Planters ...

We have a wonderful selection of green plants.

NEW LONDON FLORAL

Bl. 45, New London, Ph. 56

however, and she refuses to see a doctor, you have a right to pack your bags.

DEAR ANN: I'm 16 and writing about my sister who is 13. Both Mom and Dad work so when I come home from school the house is empty.

My 13-year-old sister has become friendly with a girl I don't like. She is a big flirt and way ahead of her years in looks and experience. She knows where all the town hoods hang out.

My sister has gotten into the habit of going with this girl to the drug store after school instead of coming home. I am worried about her because I know the boys she meets there are all bad.

I haven't mentioned this to my mother because I don't want to be a tattletale. Do you think I have the right to order my sister to stay away from this girl, and to come straight home after school? — Charlotte

Dear Charlotte: Your 13-year-old sister has parents and it is their place to tell her what to do.

It is your obligation, however, to let Mother know that your sister is running in bad company, since Mother works, and has no way of knowing these things.

Perhaps if your mother were aware that her young daughter was meeting hoods after school, instead of coming home, she'd quit her job, or work part-time and keep her eye on her family. In the long run it will be far more rewarding than the extra few dollars she can earn on the outside.

DEAR ANN: I'm 19 and miserable. I went steady with a fellow for six months and really fell in love with him. One evening he told me I'd better start to date other fellows and that he would call me "once in a while" because he didn't care to be tied down with one girl any longer.

I was heartbroken, but managed to keep my dignity. Three months have passed and he hasn't called. My friends tell me he's been taking out some pretty fast numbers. I also heard he has nothing against me and still thinks I'm "very nice." I'm sure if I could get just one date with him, I could win him back. How can I do it without looking as if I'm crawling? — Evy

You can't — so forget it. Since your dignity is all you have left, hang on to it. Make no effort to see him, and please stop discussing him with your friends. They will only report that you're still pining, which won't help matters.

Health Board Studying Host Of Problems

Hold Up Action on Fee for Inspection Of Slaughterhouse

Problems caused by the city's one licensed slaughterhouse, vending machines, a city physician, a city nurse and a restaurant code have been ordered for more study by the board of health.

The board last month urged the council to charge Valley Meat Service, the lone licensed slaughterhouse, $5 an hour for inspection by the city meat inspector.

Ald. Alvin Tews had the recommendation referred back to the board for more study because he said it's been charged the $5 fee is discriminatory.

In the board meeting, Adelbert L. Boettcher, Valley operator, said the new charge represents an increase of more than 300 per cent over the old one and will put him out of business.

Others Don't Pay
If he's off by a penny or less per pound, he loses business, he explained, and the fee would have cost him an extra $153 in December alone.

He couldn't afford to assimilate the increase, he said, and to pass it along to customers would be to lose trade to uninspected butcher plants.

The uninspected butchers, of course, have no such inspection cost to bother them and the big companies, his major competitors have inspection free by the federal government, Boettcher said.

Dr. Walter Grossman of the board took the position that people should be glad to pay extra to assure that their meat is inspected. Going to uninspected butchers is taking a chance, he said.

Tews admitted the advantage but said as a matter of fact the excessive charge would put Boettcher out of business, put a penalty on health measures.

Tews felt the previous charges of so much per head for cattle, calves, sheep and hogs was unrealistic, but so was the new price.

Board members decided on

Jail Sentence for Little Chute Man For Exposure

Jerome Hoffmann, 25, 1123 Taft street, Little Chute, was sentenced to six months in the Outagamie county jail today charge, which resulted in $907 cost over income for the city last year, will be continued.

Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Gresich reported he shortly will begin regular inspection of vending machines which have meat in their sandwiches. He proposed the city adopt an ordinance requiring licensing and inspection.

Dr. Neidhold said the problem also includes church kitchens but has proved so touchy in the past it will require long, hard study.

Ask Mayor
The board decided to again ask Mayor Mitchell to approach Dr. Marvin S. Kagen about becoming city physician on a part-time basis. Dr. Kagen will be invited to the next board meeting March 10.

One applicant for the city nurse position has been interviewed and the board is trying to set up an interview with another. The hiring of the physician should come first, the board said. A physician-nurse team would be the forerunner to consolidation of city services and eventually a county-city health organization, the board believes.

The restaurant code, which provides a grading of restaurants depending upon sanitary conditions found upon inspection was talked of briefly and will be studied more, Dr. Neidhold said.

Building Permit

Peter Traas today received a permit to place partitions in the building at 208 N. Richmond street in preparation for use of the building by Holland Furnace company. Cost is estimated at $1,000.

Chairmen Named For Cancer Drive

Divisional heads for the annual April fund drive of the American Cancer society have been announced by John Rinsician-nurse team would be the forerunner to consolidation of city services and eventually a county-city health organization, the board believes.

They are Mrs. Isaac Merit, neighbor to neighbor; Mrs. Charles Klucker and Mrs. Matt Chuchel, township co-chairmen; Mrs. Robert Ekholm, special gifts; Mrs. Joseph Moriarty, industrial; and Elmer Honkamp, rural.

Plans are being made for a kickoff meeting to precede the April drive.

High Snow Piles Form Hazard for Drivers, Walkers

Motorists must exercise extreme caution while driving along streets and highways where high piles of snow obstruct vision into driveways and walks. County Police Capt. Ronald Decker warned today.

Parents should warn their children about entering streets suddenly when snow is piled high on each side of the walk or driveway so motorists cannot see them until the child is in the roadway, Decker said.

Decker pointed out that 8-year-old William Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kramer, route 1, Kaukauna, received a broken pelvis on Tuesday when he walked from his driveway into the path of a car driven by Carl N. Greiner, 31, route 1, Kaukauna.

"If drivers exercise extreme care along streets where driveways are nearly hidden by piles of snow and if parents will tell their children not to enter the roadway without looking each way several times, we may be able to prevent these accidents," Decker declared.

Coeds Say Money Taken From Lockers

Two Lawrence coeds Wednesday night told police that $43, a cigaret lighter and a wallet were taken from lockers in the Alexander gymnasium while they were swimming.

Police were given descriptions of two boys, aged 12 to 13, who were seen in the area about the time of the thefts.

CD Directors Meet At Kaukauna

Outagamie county civil defense directors will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the Kaukauna city hall with Kaukauna CD Director Michael Gerharz as host.

Problems posed for county CD directors will be discussed and a movie, "This is Your Civil Defense," will be shown. Auxiliary police training classes and formation of motorists cannot see them until the child is in the roadway, Decker said.

Decker pointed out that 8-year-old William Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kramer, route 1, Kaukauna, received a broken pelvis on Tuesday when he walked from his driveway into the path of a car driven by Carl N. Greiner, 31, route 1, Kaukauna.

Marshall's Last Fight Ends Era

Army General's Loyalty, Quiet Devotion Ill-Rewarded

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

There are no Valhallas in Washington — General of our life any more. But if a single Valhalla — a single gallery of great fighting men — should survive, somewhere, one could hear from this gallery a great shout, "Marshall, well done!"

Copyright, 1950

It was this man also, with Will Clayton of Texas, and others now lost from public sight — who made the plan for which a Europe, then spent and broken, has now come upon a new life of strength and hope.

Marshall went as a representative of the president of the United States and as a good soldier going into a place he did not know. His purpose was to put a stop by agreement to civil strife between Nationalists and communists in China. His fear was that this strife and the resulting chaos, if long continued, would eventually benefit only the Russians as land-hungry neighbors of vast China.

The right wing Republicans said later that Marshall had gone to promote communism and to run our last ally in the far Pacific, nationalist China.

"A Living Lie" They called Marshall many terrible things. I remember that the then Sen. William Jenner of Indiana called Marshall "a front man for traitors... a living lie."

This was perhaps the most brutal thing ever said in our long history of passionate partisanship about a man who was as great a patriot and as great a gentleman as we have ever known.

Marshall had given up, to a man named Dwight D. Eisenhower, the glory of the top command in Europe when we were all fighting Hitler. Marshall, with a quiet and heart-breaking loyalty to the great common cause, had stayed in Washington to be only chief of staff of the United States Army. Through these years he had stuck here at his post, a soldier quietly doing the best he could while other and lesser men put their names and their marks upon history.

Marshall Ill-Rewarded Not in all our history has one man done, in a military way, so much for all of us. And surely in all our history has one man been so ill-rewarded for all that he had done.

Now, in the army hospital at Fort Bragg, N. C., Gen. George C. Marshall is fighting, with the gentility and uncomplaining courage that is part of him, against the final antagonist — death.

Cane Bill Permits Printing of Young Offenders' Names

Madison — Names of juveniles found delinquent in juvenile court in connection with most serious law violations could be published under terms of a bill introduced Tuesday in the assembly.

It would apply to non-sexual violations which would be a felony if committed by anyone 18 years of age or older. The bill would require the juvenile court to make the names available.

Under present law, names of persons under 18 can be blotted out only if they are tried as adults or by permission of the court. The bill was introduced.

Can't Audit Building Firms

Auditor Says State
Corporations are Private Institutions

Madison — Wisconsin's five building corporations are private organizations and the state does not have the authority to audit their records, but an audit of the corporations was committee was told Tuesday.

State Auditor J. J. Keliher made the statement at the committee's public hearing.

Borrow $35 Million Money borrowed by the corporations is spent by the building commission. The corporations, which have borrowed at least $35 million, are the State Agencies Building corporation, the Wisconsin Public Building corporation, the State College Building corporation, the University Building corporation, and the state Armory Board corporation.

Keliher said the building commission and the state building trust fund were auditthority to audit their records, but an audit of the corporations was committee was told Tuesday. The five corporations have borrowed money for several long-term self-amortizing state projects, most of it since 1950. These include dormitories, student unions and office buildings.

Ideal to serve at a bridge luncheon is Party Peas. Slice a medium size onion and separate into rings. Cook in butter until tender but not brown. Add drained canned peas, chopped pimiento and sour cream. Season to taste with salt and pepper heat.

Iowa Senator's Son Was on His Payroll

Des Moines, Iowa — The son of Republican Sen. Thomas E. Martin of Iowa acknowledged Wednesday that he was on his father's senate payroll for three years while attending law school.

Richard Martin, 37, a Des Moines attorney, said he would accede to the senator's request that he not make public the salary he was paid.

U. S. Senate financial reports do not carry the breakdown on the amount paid each employee. The senate also refuses to make such information public, although the house of representatives does make its records available.

Young Martin said he entered law school at Georgetown university, Washington, D. C., in 1955 and was graduated last summer. He said he wasn't on the payroll prior to 1955 and that he resigned in August.

During the 3 years he carried a full load of classes at college Martin said he was in the senator's office "almost every day."

Opera Star Has Secret Of Company Dinner

Take a can opener, use it makes the sauce so sumptuously, serve up a quick meal with no one guesses its origin. In a gleaming chafing dish "Don't try to economize by candlelight — and the result can be devastatingly elegant."

So says Blanche Thebom, best The flavor of a fine renowned mezzo-soprano of Spanish sherry lasts, it does the Metropolitan Opera. She has a secret: her dinner from cans is flavored with the very best Spanish sherry, which

Cheese Balls Party-Perfect For Luncheon

Party-perfect for a luncheon are these Cheese Balls with Tomato Sauce that will certainly testify to any hostess' culinary prowess.

The delectably flavored cheese balls combine eggs, cream cheese, grated cheddar cheese and oven-toasted rice cereal crumbs. When the mixture has been shaped into small balls, they are dipped in egg whites, rolled in remaining cereal crumbs and then fried until a rich, golden brown. The simple-to-make tomato sauce, subtly flavored with bay leaf and parsley, adds the final flourish.

To complete the party touch, serve the cheese balls with diced potatoes, asparagus spears and a crisp, tossed salad.

Cheese Balls
2 eggs, separated
1 3-ounce package cream cheese
2 cups (1 lb.) grated cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
5 cups oven-toasted rice cereal

Tomato Sauce
1-3 cup butter
1-3 cup flour
2 cups milk
1 cup (1 8-oz can) tomato sauce
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 teaspoon baking soda
Beat egg yolks slightly. Blend with cheese, salt, paprika and Worcestershire sauce. Crush into fine crumbs. Add half the crumbs to the cheese mixture, mixing well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold in half the egg whites, shape into balls about one and one-half inches in diameter. Roll balls first in remaining egg whites, then in remaining crumbs. Set aside until shortly before serving time.

Fry cheese balls in heated shallow fat turning until balls are browned on all sides. Serve immediately accompanied by tomato sauce.

To make sauce, melt butter in saucepan, stir in flour. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly over low heat until thickened. Set aside. Combine tomato sauce, bay leaf, sugar and parsley; simmer about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Just before serving, stir in soda. Add to hot white sauce and serve at once.

Metropolitan Opera Star Blanche Thebom adds the finishing touch of wine to her chicken concoction from cans. The sherry, the same served to her guests before dinner, gives the mixture its subtle, elegant flavor.

Laboratory Controlled and Kitchen Tested

Scallop Curry is a new way to serve this succulent shellfish. The recipe was voted the prize-winner by home economists because of all the mouth-watering dishes tested, this one has the real down-easter flavor. Of course, the classic deep-fry method is still an excellent way to prepare scallops when they are served with a rich tartar sauce for dunking.

Down East Flavor

Prize Recipe Proves They're Many Ways to Cook Scallops

When you think of scallops, lops in good supply the county you probably picture a plate try over, it might be a good time to try this prize-winning recipe from the deep-fat fryer and recipe. It's called Scallop Curry and is simple to prepare.

There's no doubt this classic method of preparing scallops is a good one, but you'll get an argument in certain quarters if you insist it is the only way.

In New Bedford, Mass., where the scallop is king, fishermen's wives like to experiment with this succulent shellfish. A recent recipe contest produced an assortment of mouth-watering recipes for scallop salads, scallop casseroles, scallops sauteed, scallops broiled... even raw scallops, marinated in lime under source of heat. Broil slowly 10 minutes. Turn scallops, brush with curry mixture. Place under source of heat. Broil 10 minutes longer.

But the recipe that won the unanimous vote of a panel of home economists was one or with a decided Eastern flavor. With fresh or frozen scallops, if frozen ones are used,

- Scallop Curry
- 2 lbs sea scallops, fresh or frozen
 - 1 cup honey
 - 1 cup prepared mustard
 - 2 teaspoons curry powder
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- Line broiler pan with aluminum foil. Arrange scallops in bottom of pan. Combine remaining ingredients; mix well. Brush scallops generously with curry mixture. Place under source of heat. Broil 10 minutes. Turn scallops, brush with curry mixture. Place under source of heat. Broil 10 minutes longer.

Combine all ingredients but patty shells, simmer gently about 20 minutes. Serve in patty shells. Makes four to six servings.

'Winter of 1959' Will Live in Memories of Fox Cities Residents

BY DAVID APKER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it," Mark Twain said. This oft-repeated saying by America's most famous literary humorist might well apply to the Fox Cities this winter. Unless (heaven forbid) a worse winter comes along soon, it's certain old timers 30 years from now will wax nostalgic about the "Winter of '59" in the same manner as today's elders recall the "big snow back in '03." According to the Wisconsin Appleton temperatures have dropped below the zero mark on 37 days, just three short of an all-time record. Deep snow has added to the misery of residents — especially those who found shoveling the driveway an all too regular occurrence.

City and county snow removal crews and traffic patrolmen also will have good reason to remember this year's weather. Plow and snow removal equipment has been active more often than in any other winter. Gas and electricity consumption reached record highs in the Fox Cities, according to the Wisconsin Power company. Garages and taxi companies have been doing a land of a time business as autos such as cumbled to the rigors of cold weather and too much snow. It's been quite a winter for water heating tanks requires more electricity.

In a normal winter, Appleton uses about six cars, or 300 tons of salt. It has already used nine cars, or 450 tons. The city also has used about 1,240 tons of sand.

Experts blame the nasty weather on an unusually sharp drop in wind speeds aloft. Slackening in prevailing westerly winds caused a change in atmospheric patterns. It's a matter of troughs and over long wave lengths. Weather experts say, that this provided an invasion route for cold air from the gulf of Alaska.

Scrapping of Canadian Jet Stirs Up Debate

Unemployment and National Pride Major Factors

Ottawa — P— The Canadian government's decision to scrap the Arrow jet interceptor has caused a furor throughout the country and promises to be a hot political issue for months to come.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told parliament Friday the government is abandoning the Arrow in favor of a U.S. anti-aircraft missile system. Two-thirds of the cost of the missile program will be paid by the United States.

Opposition Leader Lester Pearson at once demanded a "complete and comprehensive" parliamentary examination of Canada's defense policy. Although he did not openly criticize the decision to scrap the Arrow, he made it plain he wants a wide-ranging debate on its implications.

Employment Issue

Some 14,000 workers for A. V. Roe (Canada) Ltd., builders of the Arrow, have been laid off. AVRO suppliers employ an additional 15,000 persons whose jobs are now threatened. This could severely aggravate Canada's unemployment problem, already a sizzling political issue.

There have been cries that discontinuance of the Arrow program will cause trained workers, scientists and technicians to disperse, dealing a severe blow to the Canadian aircraft industry. Critics claim that painful postwar efforts to lay a foundation for Canadian air defense production have been all but shattered. There are complaints that Canada must now depend to a large extent on U. S. good will during coming years of integrated U.S.-Canadian defense production.

Canadian military leaders have warned this integration will be a long, hard process.

The Arrow, or CF105, is a supersonic jet interceptor designed to replace the CF100 jet now in service with the Canadian Air Force. The government had already spent $400 million developing the plane. Only five were actually built, and it was estimated it would cost an additional $350 million to give the RCAF 100 Arrows.

Good Supply of Canned Goods Aid to Menus

During the lenten season, let your canned foods shelf be your menu-planner.

Your menus will be varied with the many canned fish and seafoods, and meatless prepared entrees. An excellent choice for dinner one night is Salmon Loaf made with canned salmon and condensed cream of mushroom soup and dressed up with chopped pimiento and parsley flakes.

Especially tasty served with the Salmon Loaf are buttered canned peas and buttered canned carrots.

Salmon Loaf

1 can (1 lb.) salmon
2 eggs
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 1/2 cups tiny bread cubes
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 teaspoon salt

Break salmon into flakes. Add slightly beaten eggs and the other ingredients. Mix well. Put into a greased loaf pan.

Bake in a moderate 375-degree oven 45 minutes, or until firm. Six servings.

Appetizer-Salad Menu Brightener

Here's a combination appetizer-salad dish which will brighten your menu. In a mixing bowl, combine diced apple, diced celery and mayonnaise. Mix thoroughly.

Arrange mixture on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. Top with a few whole Norway sardines and garnish with a sprig of fresh parsley. Chill and serve.

Tomato Cocktail

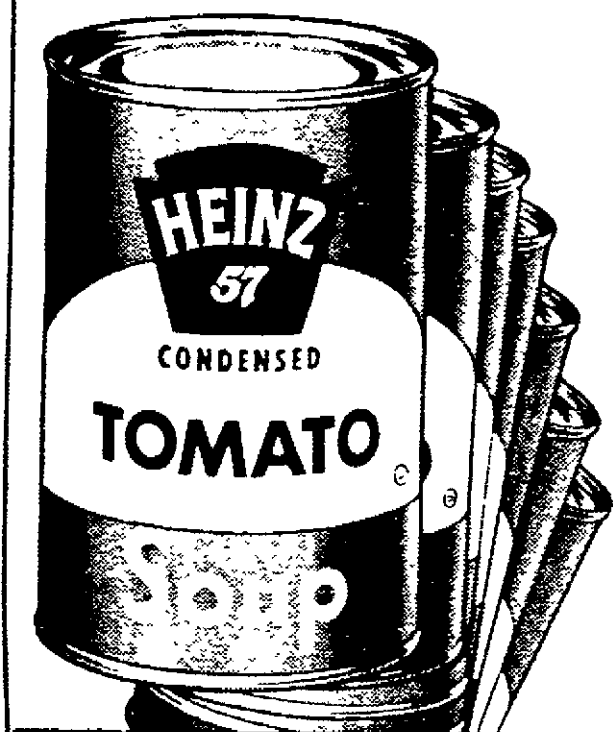

An excellent way to begin a dinner is with Tomato Cucumber Cocktail. Combine canned tomato juice with grated onion and cucumber. Season to taste with lemon juice, seasoned salt, Tabasco and Worcestershire sauce. Chill one to two hours.

Hot Fudge Sundae, most delicious of all sundaes, was originated by Johnston. No one has ever equaled Johnston Hot Fudge topping for ice cream, cake and other desserts. Try it. You'll love its pure, milk chocolate flavor. In a handy glass jar with a twist-off cap.

Appleton CAP Squadron Growing In Importance to State Program

The Appleton Civil Air Patrol squadron's growing importance in this area was expressed by Col. Richard Jaye, Wisconsin Wing commander, during his inspection of the squadron.

Appleton soon will receive a mobile headquarters for use in simulated and actual search and rescue situations. The bus will be radio equipped and will be used to coordinate search efforts.

The Appleton squadron consists of about 40 senior members and 50 cadets — young people between 14 and 18. There are 10 planes owned by CAP members and one surplus air force craft is used by Appleton. Shawano and Green Bay wings.

The Appleton CAP base radio station is in operation daily from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. and joins two daily check-ins with the state headquarters at Watertown.

essary to quality for the special trips — usually in air force planes — is a summer encampment where the cadets undergo simulated training as an air force member at an air force base.

CAP cadets must be between 14 and 18. That is the only requirement. There are programs for both boys and girls.

In the senior CAP, it is not necessary to be a pilot.

Changed Function

The CAP began during World War II as a submarine searching operation, but its function has steadily changed to rescue work and an academy around the Great Lakes, and a million cadets in aviation set a dangerous precedent for programs. There are 119 later CAP students enrolled in the air force academy.

Although the CAP has a liaison with civil defense, it is an entirely separate operation. Civil defense is a civilian operation, the CAP operates under direction of the air force.

Commander of the Appleton unit is Maj. Orville Prokash. Commander of the cadets is Lt. Lorenz Starfeldt.

At 7 p.m. Tuesdays at Franklin school, cadets are trained in the CAP aviation education program. Upon taking the training and passing tests, cadets can become eligible for the international air exchange, in which the CAP exchanges 145 cadets with those from 21 nations and the jet orientation course, in which 52 cadets get a week-long training as jet pilots.

Part of the training necessary to quality for the special trips — usually in air force planes — is a summer encampment where the cadets undergo simulated training as an air force member at an air force base.

Viewers Give Ideas On TV Programming

All Housewives Not Morons, One Southern Homemaker Complains

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York.—It seems that viewers have as interesting things to say about television these days as do the people who decide what we shall see on the small screen.

A couple of weeks ago Mrs. Clyde Evans, Biloxi, Miss., complained against thought-provoking programs as "pick of the week."

Mail has been heavy since then—and, interestingly, all in disagreement with Mrs. Evans' opinions. Two of the most articulate replies are from the south.

Mrs. Irving Silver, High Point, N. C., tells Mrs. Evans: "In heaven's name, don't deny those of us whose sets don't go on for six weekdays—except for news or 'Captain Kangaroo'—the privilege of the excellent Sunday programs such as '20th Century,' 'Camera Three,' 'Omnibus,' 'The New York Philharmonic,' and the like."

Mrs. Mary B. Vogel, Gainesville, Fla., identifies herself as a housewife with three small children who does her own work.

"Dislikes Soap Operas

"Frankly, I am tired of the stereotype of the housewife as a rather none-too-bright individual who prefers ordinary, unimaginative soap operas bearing beautiful music... not this constant rock 'n' roll and backwoods pop. Yes, music appreciation programs such as the late Walter Damrosch presented on radio in the past.

"Contrary to the opinions of advertising executives and network vice-presidents, housewives do have brains. And we'd like to use them. Housework is a dull, time-consuming job, and it would make work easier and make us feel more important if we were challenged by daytime TV programs rather than talked down to."

Likes Thought-Provokers

"I enjoy such programs as 'Meet the Press,' Edward R. Murrow's thought-provoking programs, '20th Century,' 'Omnibus,' and many others of that type. I know TV time is hard to fill, so why not run some of these programs during the week in the morning? I'm a little tired of seeing reruns of 'My Little Margie' and 'I Love Lucy' for the fifth and sixth times. Consequently, most of my friends and I seldom watch television in the daytime."

"If television doesn't want to take a chance on reaching an audience of my type, then why doesn't radio have the guts to try it? What do radio executives think when they plan radio programs in the daytime—or do they think?"

Presumably teenagers should be in school most of the day. Why then, do we housewives have to suffer through programs designed for them and listen to their kind of music?

"All I ask is that I be treated as an adult, not a high-wives really are smarter than them from Iron Curtain countries, when an ad-

Mrs. Deborah Power, widow of Tyrone Power, holds the actor's only son, Tyrone IV, as the 4-week-old boy was photographed for the first time. Power died of a heart attack near Madrid two months before the child's birth.

Italian Actor Waits 2 Years In Hollywood

Brought Here for Role in 'Ben Hur,' Accent Against Him

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood.—Cesare Danova is finally making his first Hollywood movie, almost three years after he came here as the new Italian sensation.

Is he bitter? Not in the least. His attitude belies the traditional Italian impetuosity.

His understanding didn't make the experience any less painful, however. His case is much the same as his countryman, Rossano Brazzi, who came here after the war and languished. Brazzi finally flopped in "Little Women" and returned in defeat to Italy to rebuild his career to its current eminence.

Lost Title Role

Danova decided to fight it out right here. He was imported originally to play the title role in "Ben-Hur."

But Charlton Heston got the role.

"The studio still wanted me," Danova said. "But the studio director, William Wyler, wanted no accents in the cast. So he wouldn't take me."

So Danova sat. And sat. He at least was working. Couldn't work, and the studio wouldn't let him go. For all on TV's "The Rifleman"

Sabina Bethmann, blonde German actress, has been replaced by Jean Simmons in the slave girl role in the movie, "Spartacus." Universal International studio, which holds her contract, says that a new picture will be announced soon for Miss Bethmann.

Suspension Ends For Natalie Wood

Los Angeles.—Warner Brothers studio has lifted its year-long suspension of one-time child star, Natalie Wood, now 20.

She was suspended following a dispute over her $750 weekly salary, shortly after her 1957 marriage to actor Robert Wagner, 29.

and picked him for Leslie Caron's lover in "The Man Who Understood Women." Now he's on his way.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Have you noticed the surprisingly little crying that's been done over the football milk Randy Duncan spilled by forsaking the Packers for Canada? Perhaps this is because Coach Vince Lombardi had never gone overboard in his praise for Duncan (or in his personal efforts to wrap Randy up) and because several other football men expressed serious doubts about Duncan's stardom potential in the demanding NFL. Though Duncan was the best of a generally sub-par "draftable" collegiate QB crop, perhaps he lacked the tools to become a pro standout. Then, again maybe he does have what it takes. But that kind of academic speculation gets us nowhere. What's more serious than the loss of Duncan as an individual is the dissipation of the No. 1 draft choice. The last-place Packers, of all people, can't afford to lose a chance to beef up with one (anyone) of 1958's most eligible collegians. To invert an old saw, "Them that hasn't, don't git."

The Dec. 1 Packer drafting team (Ray McLean, Jack Vainisi, et al) probably had no way of knowing that the Canadian lure would prove so strong and was sincere in its effort to get the Bays a big-name draftee. That's all very well, but this much is sure: if there was any kind of a serious doubt (even 25 or 30 per cent) about Duncan's interest in playing for Green Bay (before the draft, pro clubs, of course, poll college stars on their intention) he should have been passed over. With their personnel needs as big as they were (and are), the Packers were in no position to gamble. They could have gone for such other equally good first-round prospects as quarterback Lee Grosscup, halfback Don Clark, fullback Nick Pietrosante or even a "future" such as Rich Petitbon or Dick Bass.

There is some reason to believe that Duncan wasn't against playing in the NFL, per se—only against playing with the Packers. Right after he was drafted, Duncan was quoted as hoping the Packers would trade him to the Bears or Cardinals. Maybe this trade avenue wasn't explored by the Packers—or maybe the fickle Randy didn't give them the chance. After all, he is a bit hard to figure. In a Milwaukee interview some time ago, Duncan said he wasn't sure whether he would play pro football, but that if he did, it would be with the Packers. Anyway, the Packers are left holding the bag (unless Duncan, wants to "come back" and play in the NFL after a 2-year Canadian hitch). It is the fourth time they have lost a first-round choice. The others were Marquette's John Strzykalski, in 1946; UCLA's Ernie Case, in 1947; and Kentucky's Bob Ginn, 1951.

Kimberly's championship basketball habits are deeply rooted in tradition. This was again brought home the other day when Ray Mauthe called my attention to a slightly-faded copy of a 20-year-old Post-Crescent. The Papermakers of 1939 had just copped the Eastern division, Little Nine, championship with their tenth straight win—the school's second unbeaten season in history up to that time. The mention is appropriate now because Ray Hamann, who coached that Kimberly quint, is now back at the school as principal. And, the Papermakers—now playing in the Mid-Eastern conference—are bidding to become the first school to post a perfect record in that circuit in 15 years. Hamann's '39 squad included Jim Fieweger (later to become a 1-man track team at Lawrence college), Paul Van Dyke, Henry Langenberg, Junior Barrand, Ed Krueger, Ben Weyenber, Elmer VandenBoogaard, Quentin Williams, Clifford Parent and Bob LaBerger.

Kimberly is one of three 1939 Little 9 teams that have since changed affiliations. The others are Seymour, to the Northeastern Wisconsin, and Brillion, to the Eastern.

"Stu" Locklin, who leaves for spring training with San Diego, March 9, hopes he can pick up this year where he left off in '58. For the last month or so of last season at Minneapolis he hit over .300 and slugged .450 in the playoffs as he was an important cog in the Millers' Little World Series triumph. Locklin believes the answer to his improvement was in being able to play regularly. San Diego had been overstocked with left-handed hitters, so "Stu" didn't get a real chance to hit his stride until he was sent on "lend-lease" to Minneapolis. Ralph Kiner's San Diego club trains at Indio, Calif. Locklin will start the season with San Diego. He could remain there or be sent to plug an outfield gap elsewhere. And Locklin hasn't given up hope of landing with the parent Cleveland Indians—especially if he should happen to get off to a hot start. Locklin shows a definite interest in coaching as a career for his post-baseball days. He liked his first official basketball experience in working with the Lawrence college frosh this season.

WIAA figure filberts report that a total of 573 games (including the sub-districts that started Monday) will have to be played before the 1959 state prep basketball championship is determined.

Manager Eddie Sawyer's appointment pad already has at least one line filled in for each day of the 1959 baseball season. John Quinn, the Phils' new general manager, says, "I want my manager to be in my office every day, even if only to say hello." Quinn says Sawyer will run the show on the field but he feels daily conferences are beneficial. Quinn calls Warren Spahn his favorite pitcher of all those who toiled for the Tribe during his lengthy tenure there.

Will Face St. John Friday Night

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Little Chute — Fox Valley Catholic conference champion Menasha St. Mary reigns as the favorite as four teams are set to open the Catholic Regional basketball tournament here Friday night.

The Zephyrs, with a 16-game winning streak and a 17-3 record for the season, have a pair of wins over both St. Mary Springs of Fond du Lac and host St. John during the regular season. The fourth team in the tourney is St. Gregory High of St. Nazianz.

The first game at 7 p.m. sends Springs against St. Nazianz. The Dutchmen and Zephyrs battle at 8:30.

Third Straight Year
The finals will be Sunday afternoon, with the consolation game at 1:30 and the title game at 3 p.m.

This is the third straight year the Catholic Regional is being played at the St. John court. In both previous meets the Menashans won the championship and the right to move on to the state test. The same four teams have been in the regional each year. Last year, Springs tripped St. John while St. Mary had an easy time with St. Gregory in the first round. In the finals, St. Mary edged the Ledgers, while St. John copped the consolation title.

The four teams in the meet have a combined won-lost record of 51 victories and 23 losses. Springs has the best overall mark with 18 wins and only three losses. All three defeats have been in Fox Valley Catholic conference play, twice to the Zephyrs and once to St. John.

The Menashans have the second best mark with 17-3. St. John finished the regular season with a 12-10 mark, five of the losses coming by less than 10 points. St. Nazianz is 4-7 for the campaign, two of the wins have come over Little Glenbulah.

The Chuteers gave the Zephyrs a close battle when St. Mary pulled out a 62-58 victory Jan. 8. In the meeting at Menasha the Zephyrs recorded a 72-62 win. Springs, almost a shooin to reach the title game, has also given the Zephyrs trouble this season. In the first meeting, Menasha took a 61-52 triumph and then squeaked by the Ledgers, 68-66, a week ago.

Says Braves to 'Run Away'

Spahn Sees Another 20-Victory Season

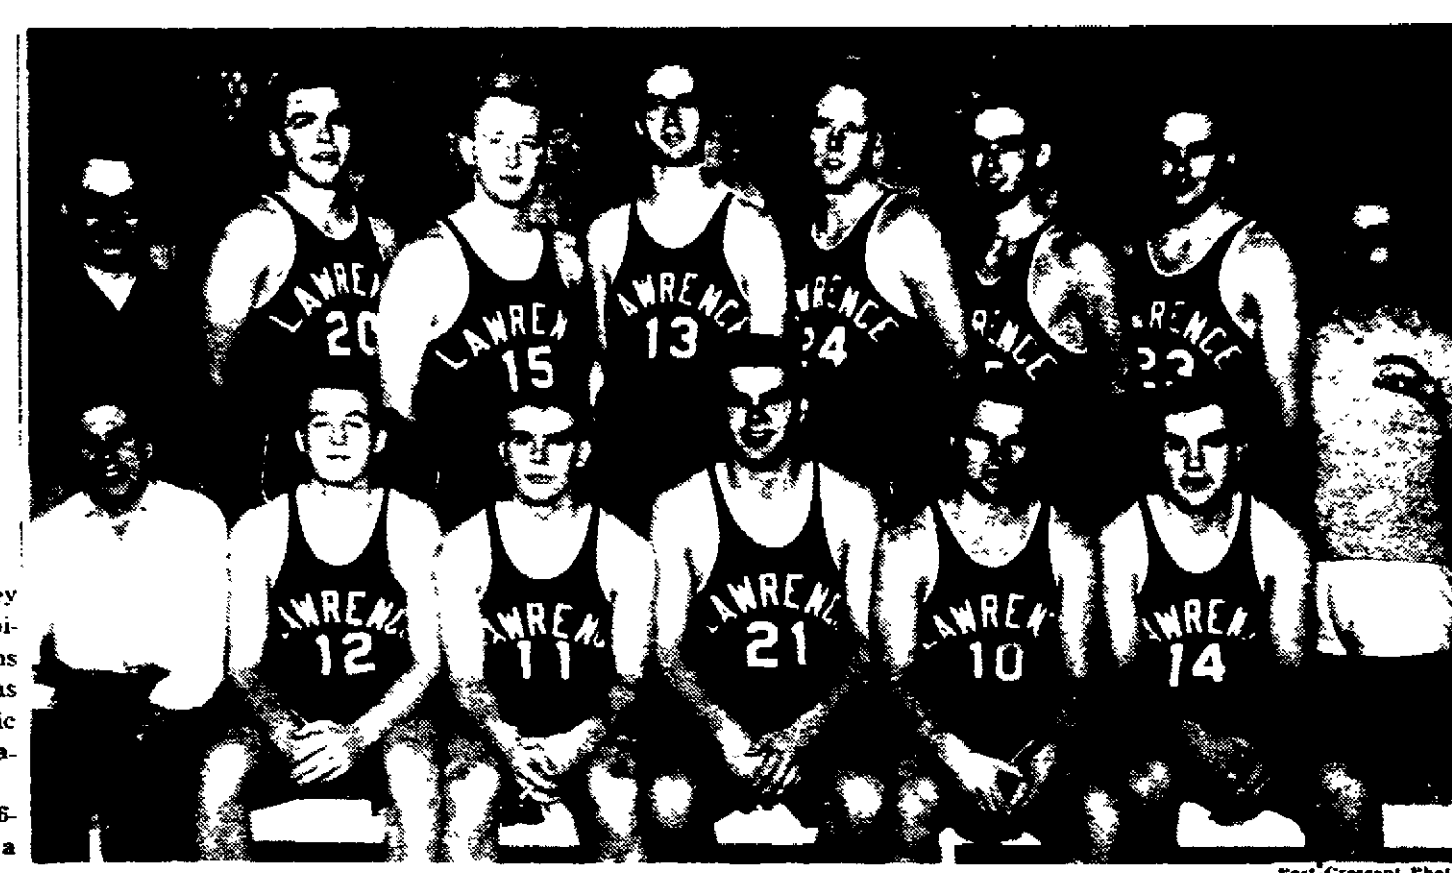

Bradenton, Fla. —P— Warren Spahn, the brilliant left-handed ace of the Braves, believes he will have his tenth season as a 20-game winner and that his Milwaukee club will "run away" with the National league baseball pennant.

"I see no reason why I should not do as good as or even better than before," the 37-year-old veteran said Wednesday after reporting for spring practice. "I won't concede anything to Father Time if the time comes when Old Man Spahn hasn't got it. I'll be the first one to say it. But the way I feel now I can keep going indefinitely. In fact I'd like to pitch even more often than I have. I've got to work often to be effective."

All Will Concede
Spahn said he thought the Braves were going to "jump off in front and then everyone's going to concede it to us." He added that the pitchers, particularly, would miss "Red" Schoendienst who is recovering from tuberculosis, because "he was always in the right spot at the right time and was the playmaker on the club."

"But I think that if we'd put the clubhouse boy on second base, we'd still win the pennant again," he said. "That's how much confidence I've got in this club."

Washington rose to third behind the new runnerup quint, Whitefish Bay. The only other unbeaten teams besides Kimberly are Whitefish Bay (15-0) and Menomonee Falls (16-0).

Waupaca, victimized Tuesday by Mosinee, was one of four teams to drop out of the Big 16. The others are Preble, Elkhorn and Prairie du Sac.

Replacing this quartet in the ratings are Eau Claire, Madison West, LaCrosse Central and Badger of Lake Geneva.

Pfeiffers Slap Bulging 3,243 in ABC Tourney

Record-Breaking Score Earns Lead; All 5 Above 600

St. Louis—P—A record that stood unblemished for 21 years crumbled Wednesday night when the Detroit Pfeiffers rolled an astonishing 3,243 series and took the lead in the 56th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

The score broke the record of 3,234 set in 1938 by Birk Brothers of Chicago, and established the Pfeiffers as the favorite to win the open team division championship.

State Senate CC Committee Okays Fox Bounty Bill

Madison —P— The state Senate's Conservation committee recommended Wednesday passage of a bill to reinstate payment of bounties on fox.

The measure, on which a public hearing was held earlier, calls for a $250 payment for each mature red and gray fox and $1 per kit.

The Conservation department has estimated payments will come to about $60,000 a year, the outlay to be divided evenly between conservation and general funds.

Just in case you're wondering what possible victory incentives the Lawrence college basketball might have as they wind up another less-than-sensational season this weekend, check the following:

1. By beating either Midwest conference champion Knox Friday or Monmouth Saturday Lawrence would snap a road game losing streak (40 games) which has long since reached distressing proportions and now is downright embarrassing.

Gain Prestige
2. A victory on the Illinois court would give Lawrence its best season record since the 1954-5 campaign—an era when all of the present Vikings were unsophisticated high schoolers. (The blue and white are 2-18 overall on the current campaign and Lawrence hasn't won more than a pair of contests in four seasons.)

3. Lawrence could gain lots of prestige by upsetting Knox, and the Vikings think they have a chance to do it. Lawrence lost to the champion Silwashers by just three points, 72-69, in Appleton.

Knox clinched the solo MC crown without flexing a muscle Tuesday night when Coe upset Grinnell, 65-54. The Pion-

1st 10 Teams Change in City Pin Tourney

New teams have taken over the top ten spots in the Appleton Bowling association tournament at Hahn's.

The Pastyme club team now ranks first with a gross score of 2,952. Pastyme netted 2,898 and added a 54-pin handicap.

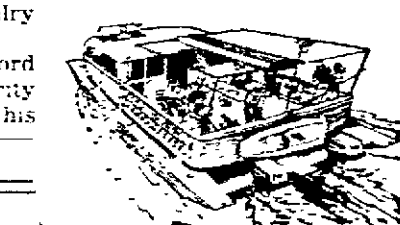

Pastyme owns a 98-pin margin over second place Connie's bar. Connie's rumbleballed a 2,749 net score and grossed 2,854 after adding its 105-pin spot.

Appleton Wire Works No. 2, time and the fourth time in which currently holds down the tenth position on a 2,716 gross tally, has a score which ending game of potential is one pin better than that of previous team leader, Alko the previous occasions, the Terrors' own title hopes won't be at stake Friday.

AHS won't have to look far for motivation, however. Included would be such desires as: averaging a 70-65 overtime loss last month, clinching a share of third place in the FRVC, rising to the 500 level for season play and enabling Emanuel to reduce his deficit in a spirited coaching rivalry with Ron Nord.

At the moment Nord wouldn't win any popularity contests in the Valley, but his

'Spider' TKOs Bobby Boyd In First Round

Webb's Manager Hopes Robinson Will Fight Moore

Chicago (AP)—With everybody wanting to get into the act, "Spider" Webb's manager, Hec Knowles, says: "If I were 'Sugar' Ray Robinson, I would rather fight Archie Moore than Carmen Basilio."

"I don't think Robinson wants to see that Basilio rushing in at him again for 15 rounds. And if Robinson knocked down Moore like Yvonne Durrell did, Archie would stay down."

This is one way of Knowles saying that Webb would stand more of a chance to gain the middleweight crown through a Moore-Robinson match. He thinks Robinson would win and thus have to vacate the middleweight title. Webb, now ranked No. 3, figures to do quite well in any elimination tourney.

2,623 on Hand

Spider was impressive Wednesday night before TV cameras in Chicago stadium and a ringside turnout of 2,623 fans who paid a net of $4,098. He bombed Bobby Boyd into a technical kayo in 1:55 of the first round of a scheduled 10.

The first promotion of the new National Boxing Enterprises, Inc., which replaced the dissolved International Boxing Club of Illinois, was a bruising battle of two Chicago rivals while it lasted.

Boyd, ranked No. 7, had Webb's head buzzing with a left. Then Webb unloaded two rights that put Boyd down for a nine count. He staggered to his feet and got his chin in the way of lefts and rights that sent his mouthpiece flying.

Again Boyd hit the floor, nearly sprawling through the ring ropes. At nine he was up but was so wobbly Referee Frank Sikora halted the bout.

It was Boyd's seventh knockout of 11 losses in 65 fights. Webb, who at 158 gave up two pounds to his opponent, now has won 32 of 36 bouts, 17 by kayoes.

Gordon Hopes Lemon Can Stick as Reliever

By the Associated Press

Bob Lemon, 38, is seeking to regain a place on the Cleveland roster as a reliever after sinking to the minors last season.

In the fall of 1957, after winning 20 or more games seven times, Lemon had an operation on his right elbow for the removal of bone chips. He hasn't been right since.

In mid-season of 1958, Bob was sent to San Diego and was released by the Pacific Coast league club at the end of the year.

Now, with youngsters Herb Score, "Mudcat" Grant and Gary Bell tabbed to do most of the Cleveland starting, Manager Joe Gordon is hoping Lemon can catch on in the bullpen.

"He'll Help Us"

"If Lemon can throw that sinker again, he'll help us in relief, mostly," said Gordon at the Indians' training camp in Tucson, Ariz. "With that sinker, he'd be rough for a couple of innings."

Jack Urban of the Kansas City A's reported he still is feeling effects of an injury that plagued him last season. Urban was hurt in a collision at first base with Billy Goodman of the Chicago White Sox. Urban won 8 and lost 11 last year.

Arnie Portocarrero, Baltimore right-hander, predicted he would win more than the 15 games he did last year after reporting 18 pounds lighter to the Orioles' camp in Miami.

Chicago Cub pitcher Dave Hillman is using a five-pound iron ball which he hopes will eliminate the tight shoulder condition that bothers him every spring.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants knocked a couple out of the park during an extra batting drill.

In contract signing action Norm Zaichin of Washington Del Ennis of Cincinnati, George Crowe of St. Louis and Billy Gardner of Baltimore all come to terms.

Terror '5' Ends FRVC Season At Oshkosh

Favored Oshkosh has an overall record of 11-6, compared to 8-9 for AHS. The Terrors have split even (4-4) in their road games.

In the 6-year Nord-Emanuel rivalry, the Oshkosh menulor has an 8-5 edge (including tourney play). The Terrors, under Emanuel, lost four straight at Oshkosh (on margins ranging from 2-7 points) before turning the tables on the Indians, 62-54, last season.

In two cases, this signal-checking backfired — as regular Dick Butt and reserve letterman Don Lehman were declared ineligible because of recreation department play. That leaves regular guard Bob Leary as the main returnee from the first-semester unpleasanties — and he has been a big cog in the Indians' second-semester success.

The Indians last lost a game Jan. 16 — 68-61, to Sheboygan Central. They started their current 7-game streak — which has taken its toll against each of their FRVC rivals — against Appleton Jan. 23. That was just before the reinstatement of Leary.

Second to Hall

Oshkosh rallied to send the game into overtime, then outscored the Terrors, 61, in the extra inning. Jim Bruins, currently the No. 7 scorer in the league, and Bob Bucholtz, now No. 14, led the attack

Viking Cagers End Season on Illinois Courts

neers, who ended their league season with a 12-4 mark, were the last quintet with a shot at as much as a title tie.

Lawrence switched his foes with Ripon this weekend. Third place St. Olaf plays fourth place Cornell Friday night and sixth place Coe Saturday, trading opponents with Carleton.

Viking Coach Don Boya has done a lot of thinking about this weekend's games and has come up with an altered offense.

2-2-1 Setup

The 2-2-1 pattern has guards Jim Schulze and "Chuck" Knocke out, forecourtors Bob Blust and either Joe Lamers or Bill Weber stationed high on the free throw lanes and the Vikes' leading MC scorer, Jim Rasmussen, underneath the basket.

The system, the coach hopes, will give Schulze and Knocke more options and shot opportunities than they've been getting off the single post setup the Vikes have been using.

Knocke, a 5-9 battler from Sheboygan, has averaged just 11.8 tallies in Lawrence's last five games after sporting a per-game mark of 19.7 in the first 15 contests. There are several reasons for "Chuck's" scoring demise.

Fully Recognized

One is that his shooting abilities are now fully recognized after one trip around the league and he's being guarded more tightly, often by players much taller. Another is that the opposition is able to gang up on him, while slacking off on some Vikes who aren't as big an offensive threat.

A third is that "Chuck" might not be getting the kind of screening which was springing him loose earlier in the season. It is hoped that the 2-2-1 setup will help alter that problem.

"We ran into a buzz saw," says Boya regarding Monday night's 81-64 loss to Ripon. "Everything they threw at the basket went in, just the reverse of our 79-56 win over them in Appleton. We might have played our best ball Monday and still have been beaten, they were so hot. And we didn't play our best."

Knocke Hits 25

Knocke wired 25 points in the first Knox game while Rasmussen hit 16. Five players tallied nine or more points for the Siwashers with the 17 by Gary Hoopes the high. It was 37-all at the half-time break. Bill Graning is Knox's top scorer with a 21.3 average.

Lawrence had looked much less impressive the night before the Knox game in a 58-53 setback at the hands of Monmouth. Knocke scored 21 and Rasmussen 16. The opposition had good balance in that one too with four players hitting between eight and 17 markers. Clair McRoberts' 17 was the high total. Lawrence was on top, 28-24, at the half.

Praises Scots

Boya believes that the Vikings have at least as good a chance to beat Knox as they have against the Scots. "Knox is a club which depends on hot shooting, and if they're off and we're on we can beat them Monmouth." Boya went on, "is a real strong rebounding team and one of the best in the league defensively. So, they can beat it even though they're having a cold night."

Lawrence left for Ripon this morning and was to practice on the Knox floor this evening. Reserve Motz Drew injured a wrist against Cornell and may not be able to play this weekend.

Carleton's Ivan Grimm has clinched the league's scoring title with 391 points in 14 games, an average of 27.9 per contest. Second place is still up for grabs though Ripon's Pete Kasson has an edge on the field with 320 in 14 games.

with 22 and 23 points, respectively, against the Terrors. John Nussbaum scored 21 for AHS.

Nussbaum, who had the biggest double weekend (45 points) of any FRVC scorer last Friday and Saturday, is now averaging 19.3 for each league game. His 251-point total is second only to that of Manitowoc scoring ace Dick Hall—312. Hall has just finished setting an all-time FRVC consecutive free throw record—24 straight over a 4-game period. The previous best was 23 by Central's Bob Schmitt in 1955.

Starting with Nussbaum Friday, will be two other juniors, Harold Lodholz and Paul Vanderheyden. Seniors Bob Roemer and Bob Ferrel, whose floor play has dazzled a number of foes recently, will round out the starting five and will be playing their final conference game.

England to Start

Starting with Leary, Bruins and Bucholtz for Oshkosh will be Gene England, Jr., and "Chuck" Wiesner. Leary hit his career high of 24 points in Oshkosh's most recent win—69-66 over Central. Bucholtz canned 10 of 13 field shots in the same game. Free throwing deficiencies (missing 17 of 27) proved fatal for Central, which outscored OHS from the floor.

North Carolina Upset Again

ACC Meet Takes on 'Wide Open' Look

By The Associated Press

Next week's Atlantic Coast conference basketball tournament—tabbed a shoo-in for Frank McGuire's North Carolina Tar Heels a week ago—looks now as if it'll be a calm-raisin' donnybrook.

A reassessment is in order for the scrambling that picks the ACC's representative to the NCAA tournament after Virginia's startling 69-68 victory over North Carolina Wednesday night—the Tar Heels' second blunder in a row.

Before they dropped a 69-51 shocker to Maryland last Saturday, North Carolina was No. 1 in the nation, unbeaten—and apparently unchallenged—in the ACC. North Carolina State, the only other club near Carolina's class, had lost twice to the Tar Heels and was no NCAA threat because of probation.

Now in five days, McGuire and his Tar Heels have lost the top national rating—to Kentucky; lost the ACC lead—to N. C. State; and have dropped two in a row to such as Maryland, which has won only nine of 21, and to Virginia, with a 9-13 record.

Paul Adkins, a late arrival after attending his grandfather's funeral in Florida, scored the winning points on a layup with 1:04 left. The game at Charlottesville, Va., was in its sixth minute when Adkins made his appearance. He had 19 points in all.

Mesa, Ariz.—P—Owner P. K. Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs is getting an eye-full.

With him in the stands, reserve infielder Johnny Goryll smashed four balls out of the park in 15 swings Wednesday. Three blasts were in succession.

Then Bob Will of Berwyn, Ill., a .361 batter for Fort Worth last year, clubbed the ball against the fence in dead center field. Before he was through, he cleared the fence twice.

Replaces Berra

Howard Now Yanks' No. 1 Catcher, But He Still Can't Believe It

BY JOE REICHLER
St. Petersburg, Fla. — After five years Elston Howard finally has replaced "Yogi" Berra as the No. 1 catcher of the New York Yankees but he still can't believe it. "Yogi" was the greatest catcher I ever saw," said Howard today, "and he still is. He, together with Bill Dickey and Ralph Houk, taught me a great deal about catching. I still find it hard to believe that I'm actually considered the No. 1 catcher."

Howard came to the Yankees as a catcher five years ago but after watching the durable Berra perform, he gratefully acceded to "Casey" Stengel's wishes and switched to the outfield.

Howard "Lucky" "Lucky for me I could play another position," he said. "Otherwise I'd have been shipped to some other club, just like a batch of other catchers who came up before me. That 'Yogi' was like the rock of Gibraltar behind the plate."

Howard recalled other Yankee hopefuls who sat on the bench waiting for Yogi to step down. One by one they were dealt to other clubs or returned to the minors. He named Sherm Lollar, Gus Triandos, Hal Smith, Clint Courtney, Lou Berberet, Cal Neeman, Charlie Silvera and Morris Thacker.

"I didn't want to sit around waiting for 'Yogi,'" Howard said. "So I was happy to play the outfield even though I never was a real good outfielder and catching was my regular position."

Loosen Hold
It wasn't until last year that Howard began to loosen Berra's stranglehold behind the plate. He caught 67 games to "Yogi's" 88. This year he hopes to catch at least 100. Howard was the Yankees' leading hitter with .314, slugging 11 home runs and drove in 66 runs.

"Casey and coach Frank Crosetti are responsible for my improvement at the plate," said Howard. "I used to be strictly a pull hitter. They taught me to hit to the opposite field."

"So many people have helped me on this club, Dickey taught me a lot of things about catching I never knew existed. Houk and Berra helped me a lot last year, watching me and bearing down on me whenever they'd see me do something wrong."

Bertrand Russell
Expects to Die
June 1, 1962

London — (A.P.) — Philosopher Bertrand Russell said Monday he expects to die on June 1, 1962.

Lord Russell, who will be 87 on May 18, will read his own obituary on a television interview program next month.

The aged Nobel prizewinner, who has been married four times, wrote the obituary in 1937. He followed the style of a London newspaper.

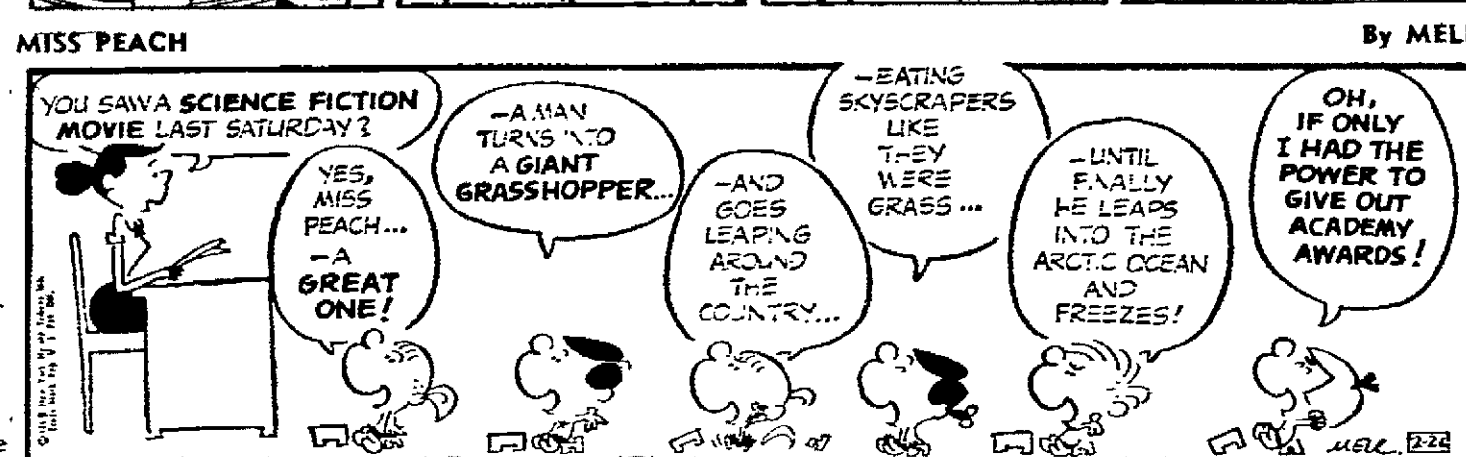

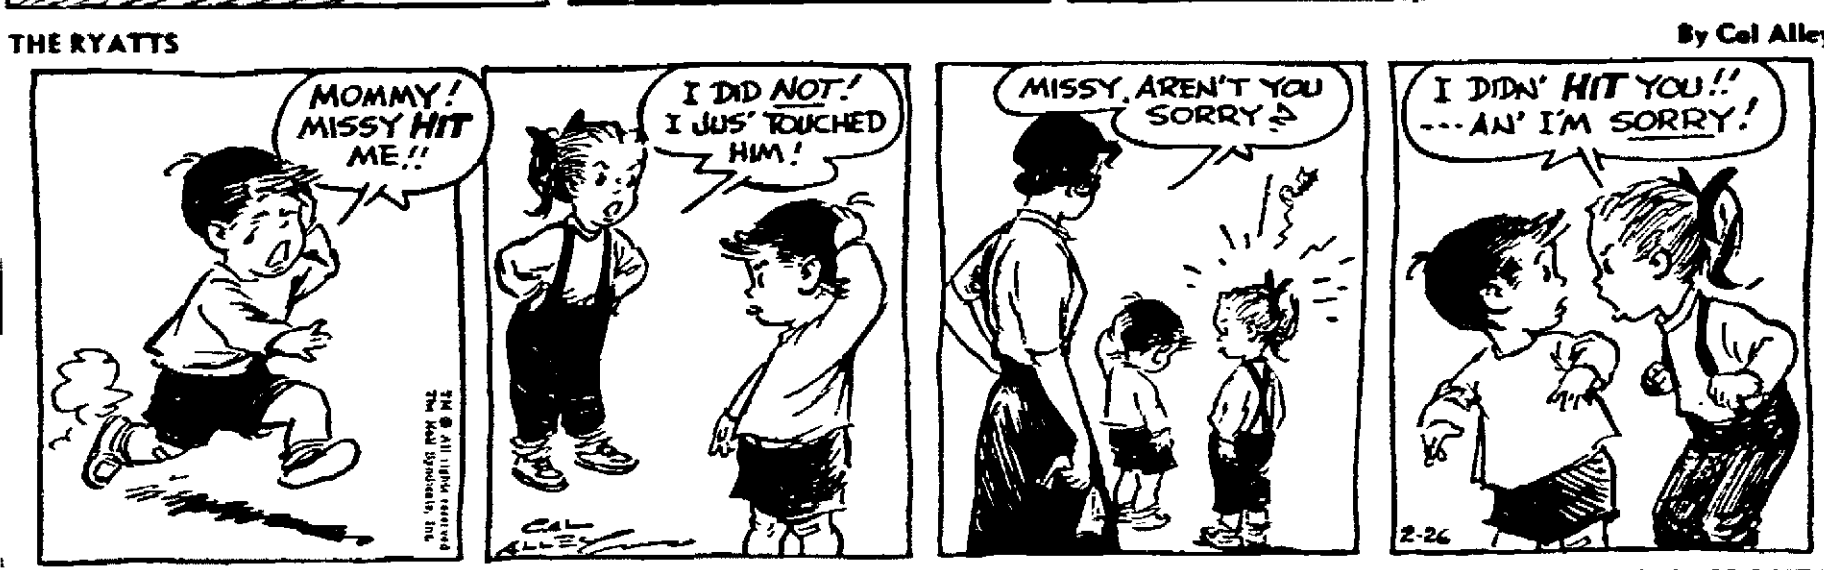

"I haven't changed a syllable of it for the television interview," Russell told a reporter. "I'm sticking to it all, including the date of my death."

"Why June 1, 1962? Well, I will be just past 90 then and it seems a suitable age to die."

"I must confess I am becoming a little nervous as the time approaches."

Miniature Tree Has Pretty Blooms Made of Crepe Paper

BY CAPPY DICK

A miniature tree with pink crepe paper blossoms is fun to make for indoor display in your home. It will look like a tiny cherry or crab apple tree in bloom.

Use a twig that has small branches spreading tree-like from its main stem (Figure 1). You will also need a small decorative pot in which to plant it (Figure 3).

For the blossoms, use a piece of pink crepe paper. Fold it into several thicknesses. Cut small circles not more than half an inch in diameter. Form each circle into a blossom.

This is done by wetting the point of a sharp pencil and pressing it against the center of one of the pink circles (Figure 2). Lift the circle and quickly twist it around the pencil to shape it like the cup of a flower. Prepare a lot of per has become stiff with these little blossoms.

Apply a drop of fast-drying glue. fluff out the petals so it will look real.

When the tree has been covered with flowers and the glue seems appropriate to have a blossom. With tweezers, a pot or bowl filled with salt, press a blossom into each or sand and place it in a wind-drip of glue, holding it there down.

Flowers are glued to a twig.

Alcoholism Most Likely in Extroverts

Colonial, N. J. — Dr. Cyril M. Franks says he thinks alcoholism is most likely to occur among extroverts — happy, outgoing individuals.

Franks, who has received a $25,000 grant to study alcoholism in the United States, feels the situation is least likely to occur in introverts — quiet people who prefer to remain by themselves to read or listen to music.

Ivory Towers Out for Judges, Bitker Asserts

They Should Also Be Removed From Political Factions

A judge should be independent, objective and removed from political factions but he shouldn't live in an ivory tower, Bruno V. Bitker, a candidate for supreme court justice declared in Appleton Wednesday.

He spoke during an afternoon coffee hour at the home Mrs. Gordon R. McIntyre, 817 W. Fifth street, and during an evening meeting at the Appleton Labor temple. Bitker is a Milwaukee attorney.

Bitker deplored the small number of voters casting ballots for supreme court justice a year ago and contended, "The enormous power vested in the state supreme court can reshape many of the acts of legislative bodies and administrative officers of the state. The great trust thus placed in the supreme court surely merits full voter participation in elections."

He asserted experience in a broad range of civic enterprises is as important in selecting a judge as legal training and noted he has been able "to crowd a diversified law practice into a life filled with service to my community."

Bureau to Begin Indian Study

U. S. Officials
Check Plan to End Supervision

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Officials of Bureau of Indian Affairs will commence a study this week of the plan for orderly termination of federal supervision of the Menominee Indian tribe, as submitted by its coordinating and negotiating committee. Rep. Melvin R. Laird disclosed today.

The plan, which calls for the incorporation of a company called Menominee Industries, Inc., was developed with the advice and counsel of tribal attorneys, the Menominee Indian State Study committee and the University of Wisconsin.

The tribe's general council, of which Jerome Grignon is chairman, approved the plan early this year by a vote of 91 to 16. Details of the plan were submitted to the members of the tribe through the Menominee Indian news this summer.

Submission of the plan of termination to the secretary of interior this month beats the deadline as required by law by nearly a year and its acceptance by the tribe necessarily is conditioned on the acceptance by the Wisconsin legislature. If either the legislature or the secretary of interior suggests substantial changes then the plan goes back to the tribe for reconsideration.

Birth and Marriage Rates Show Decline

Washington — The United States birth rate fell to 24.5 for each thousand population last year. It was the first year since 1951 that the birth rate was below 25.

The national office of vital statistics also said the marriage rate continued to decline in 1958. It dropped to 8.3 a thousand from 8.9 in 1957 and 9.4 in 1956.

There were 4,204,000 registered births and an estimated 46,000 unregistered in 1958, compared with 4,254,000 registered in 1957.

Marriages were estimated at 1,445,000 last year, compared with 1,516,000 for 1957 and 1,569,000 for 1956.

There were an estimated 1,647,000 deaths in 1958, an increase of 0.7 per cent from the 1,636,000 in 1957. However, the rate per thousand population dropped from 9.6 in 1957 to 9.5 in 1958, a decrease of 1 per cent.

Club to Organize To Promote Hallows

Justice Harold Hallows, incumbent candidate for the supreme court, will be in Appleton tonight when residents of the Fox Cities area organize a club on his behalf. The meeting will open at 7:30 p.m. at the Appleton Elks club.

Bruno V. Bitker, a Milwaukee attorney running for supreme court justice in the spring election, center, campaigned at a gathering at the Appleton Labor temple Wednesday night. With him are Milton Schmit, left, and Albert Kobussen, president of the Appleton Federation of Labor Unions.

4 Months for Tower Move, WMBV-TV Says

Final Approval by FCC Means Better
Fox Cities Reception

Green Bay — Television station WMBV - TV Wednesday received permission from the federal communications commission to build a new tower and transmitting facilities at Flintville, 11 miles southwest of Green Bay.

John D. Mackin, general manager of the Channel 11 outlet, announced that work would begin immediately and would be completed in 90 to 120 days. The station will increase the height of its antenna tower to 1,050 feet above average terrain and boost its power from 240,000 to 316,000 watts.

The new facility will increase Channel 11's range in the Fox Cities, Oshkosh, Two Rivers and Manitowish. It is a primary affiliate of the American Broadcasting company and a former NBC outlet.

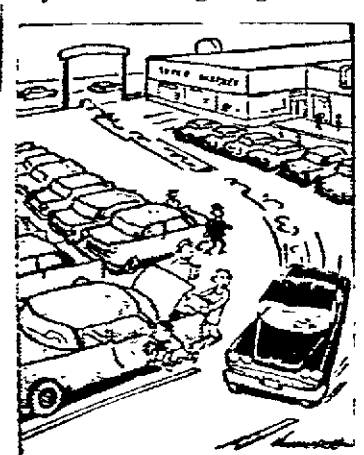

WMBV - TV began operations Sept. 10, 1954, and has studios in both Green Bay and Marinette. It joined the ABC television network Feb. 1.

Safe Driving Tip

Use Special Care When Leaving Lot

Drive carefully wherever there are pedestrians.

Motorists who roar into a gas station, a supermarket parking lot, or a private driveway are endangering adults and children alike, the Chicago Motor club points out. Maturity and common sense are of little advantage to pedestrians in such a situation.

In shopping centers with large parking areas this unsafe driving practice is doubly hazardous.
